Third Fairfax House Burns

Two-story home in Fairfax was largely destroyed today in the third house fire in Fairfax hill homes within three days.

Fire Chief Charles M. Thornton said today's blaze at 7 Forrest Terrace and that yesterday at 102 Forrest Avenue probably were both caused by cigarettes.

He said Eldamae Young, occupant of he house that was swept by flames today, reported she had been smoking in bed. A cigarette is believed to have ignited a chesterfield to start yesterday's fire in the home of Walter A. Brown, the chief said.

Today's fire was reported shortly after 8:30 a.m. and for a time posed a threat to the entire, heavily wooded neighborhood, as surrounding trees were ignited by flames leaping from the upper story.

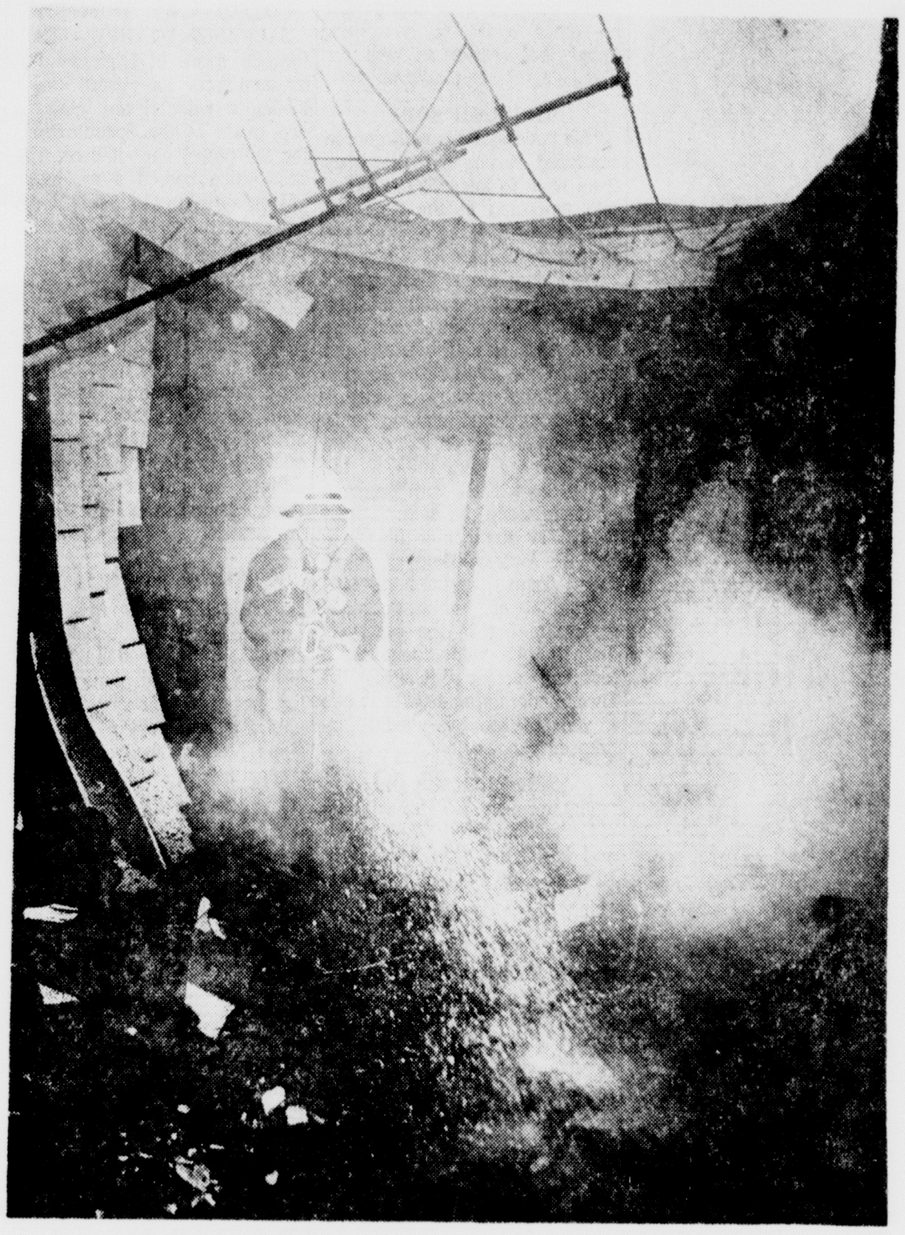

Quick action by Fairfax firemen in wetting down the woods confined the fire to the eight-room frame home. There was no immediate estimate of damage.

Firemen had to carry hoses up 137 steps of a hilside stairway to reach the house.

The upper floor was completely gutted and the ground floor badly damaged by water, which poured in a flood through the ceilings and streamed out of the building and down the hillside. Chief Thornton said only the living room in a one-story wing, escaped major damage.

The flames were visible as far away as the Meadow Club. The neighborhood, which lay still under a heavy pall of smoke as firemen, three hours later, were mopping up and removing their equipment.

The county fire department sent standby equipment in case the fire spread, and firemen from San Anselmo were also standing by to take care of any other fire in Fairfax while the Fairfax force was fully engaged.

125 Votes Held In Triangle Fight

By ROBERT M. STREBEIGH

The future of Strawberry Point and its tax-rich Town and Country Shopping Center—bone of contention in a three-cornered annexation fight—could be determined by students and teachers at Golden Gate Baptist Theological Center.

Could be, that is, if the 125 registered voters at the seminary can agree on a solution and vote as a bloc, according to divinity student Ande Beggarly.

Beggarly, a columnist for the seminary's bi-weekly news bulletin, pointed out that there are only 211 voters in the 3,177-acre annexation proposed by Mill Valley. The seminary's majority, according to Beggarly, could stop that annexation cold even if it were the solution approved by the Local Agency Formation Committee.

The city of Tiburon's annexation proposal, also before the LAFC, is 2,307 acres with 2,209 voters.

The Strawberry Recreation District, has asked that an independent city of Strawberry be created, which would have 1,123 voters on 178 acres.

Beggarly, however, conceded today that there is little more hope of getting the seminarians to vote in a bloc than any other group of citizens.

"Anyway, that wasn't my purpose," Beggarly said. "I'm just trying to get the preachers interested in the political aspect of the area they live in. I'm convinced it's bad for preachers to take a hands-off attitude toward politics."

Politics corrupts the ordinary man, according to Beggarly, who said, "It's harder to corrupt someone with a deep, abiding Christian ethic."

He suggested to his fellow seminarians that the present annexation-incorporation squabble might be a golden opportunity to "experiment with the town of Strawberry as a community run, in every respect, on Christian principles."

While the seminarians might block Mill Valley, thus giving the edge to Tiburon or an independent Strawberry, the ultimate weight of the seminarians in any resulting community would be minor, bloc-vote or no, he conceded. They would be only 125 voters in a much larger city.

Gross National Product Climbs; More Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sparked by increased consumer and defense spending, the nation's rate of economic growth picked up steam during the last three months. The Gross National Product increased by $13.7 billion on a seasonally adjusted annual basis.

In reporting this today, the Commerce Department said the value of all goods and services produced during the July-September quarter ran at a record anual rate of $746 billion.

Much of the growth during the third quarter and for the first nine months of this year stemmed from inflation.

The department said the physical volume of production — real economic growth — was up one per cent during the third quarter while over-all prices increased by three-fourths of one per cent.

Hoffa Trial Spy Claimed By Lawyer

WASHINGTON (UPI) — James R. Hoffa's lawyer told the Supreme Court today the Teamster president's 1964 jury tampering conviction should be set aside because the government had a spy on the defense team.

White was deputy attorney general at the time the Justice Department was helping prosecute Hoffa. It was not clear why Fortas, newest court member, chose to disqualify himself.

Hoffa sat in the spectators' section of the court while his Washington attorney, Joseph A. Fanelli, argued the case.

Fanelli contended that the right of privacy of Hoffa's defense at his Chattanooga, Tenn., trial was violated by the government's secret agent —a Teamster local union official.

Information given the prosecution based on defense tactics at an earlier Hoffa trial was used in the subsequent tampering trial.

The court has limited its interest in this case to the question of whether Hoffa's constitutional rights under the fourth, fifth and sixth amendments were violated by admitting certain government evidence at the trial.

Classrooms, Library Fail Quake Standards

A classroom at Stinson Beach School and a classroom and library at Bolinas School will be closed after classes end tomorrow because they fail to meet earthquake-resistance requirements of the state's Field Act.

Double sessions may be necessary in second and eighth grades.

Engle and Engle, San Rafael structural engineers, last night reported to the Bolinas-Stinson School District Board that the three rooms are unsafe under the act's standards. To bring them up to requirements would cost about $31,000, the engineers estimated. The board voted to close all three.

They are Mrs. Louise Airey's second grade room at Stinson Beach School and principal Keith Oveson's eighth grade room and the library at Bolinas School.

Both schools were built shortly after the 1906 earthquake.

Oveson is to announce plans tomorrow on how to meet the unexpected deficiency of two classrooms and the library.

"The situation may not be materially improved until the end of this school year," coutioned trustee Arthur E. Carpenter.

Trustees set a special meeting for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Bolinas School to consider how the job is to be financed.

B-52s, Jets, Ships Strike Neutral Zone

SAIGON (UPI) — U.S. B-52 strategic bombers, smaller jets and ships of the 7th Fleet carried out heavy strikes against Communist forces in the demilitarized zone (DMZ) today as Defense Secretary Robert McNamara toured areas just south of the zone.

No major ground fighting was reported but a band of Viet Cong guerrillas in the central highlands used civilian hostages as human shields to escape a fight with American paratroopers. In an action along the coast a defector helped air cavalry units kill or capture an 18-man band.

With the Communists threatening a major offensive across the DMZ once the oncoming monsoon rains blunt American airpower, U.S. planes struck North Viet Nam from the Hanoi-Haiphong areas to Dien Bien Phu. They blew up oil storage depots, a vast underground storage area and destroyed four Russian-built surface-to-air missiles (SAMS).

Three American planes were reported lost in raids yesterday —a Navy A4 Skyhawk and its pilot over North Viet Nam and two F-100 Supersabres in South Viet Nam. The two pilots and a combat photographer

LBJ Claims Viets' Offensive Foiled

Describes Asia Trip Outlook

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today the Communist monsoon offensive in Viet Nam, which had given the United States much concern, has failed.

The President did not immediately elaborate. He made the remark in discussing his forthcoming trip to the Far East and the Vietnamese conference in Manila.

He said it will be "an exciting, challenging, and demanding trip," and he is anxious to see "at first hand the proud achievements" in what he described as "an emerging Asia."

He told a news conference there is "an encouraging mood of new confidence" in the Asian countries and an awakening in this country to the importance of that development.

SOME CHANGES

Johnson said there will be some changes and additions "as there always" are in his itinerary, but did not specify any new countries he might visit. Six are on the list.

Earlier, President Johnson, campaigning in Delaware after voicing an antibacklash plea in Brooklyn, N.Y., said today the nation could "falter and fall back and fail" if too many Republicans are elected in November.

"Vote for the minority party — and we could falter and fall back and fail. Vote to return a strong Democratic Congress."

The President pictured the Democratic party as fulfilling its campaign promises in education, aid for the aged, antipoverty efforts, and attempts to build a lasting peace.

IN DELAWARE

He went to Delaware on behalf of Rep. Harris B. McDowell Jr., who is seeking re-election to the House, and James M. Tunnell Jr., running for the Senate against Republican incumbent J. Caleb Boggs.

He said that in the 67 months the nation has been headed by President John F. Kennedy and himself, personal income went up 21 per cent and "the money people have to spend and to save increased approximately 10 times as much under the Democrats."

Firebug Parolee Is Still At Large

Malcolm R. Schlette, 52-year-old Marin arsonist who became a fugitive on the day of his release on parole Monday, continued today to evade a statewide alert of peace officers.

The search began when Schlette failed to report to his parole officer Monday in Santa Rosa immediately after being released from California Medical Facility at Vacaville following 11 years in prison.

The Callfornia Adult Authority issued an all-point bulletin for Schlette as a parole violator, stating he should be considered armed and extremely dangerous.

The Department of Corrections also has dispatched officers to guard the homes of two of the men threatened, Judge Thomas F. Keating of Marin Superior Court, who sentenced Schlette to two to 20 years for arson in 1955, and William O. Weissich, who prosecuted Schlette as district attorney.

The guards have maintained a 'round-the-clock watch of the homes of both.

A third man reported threatened, U. S. Judge Sherrill Halbert of Sacramento, today told Associated Press that he has been kept fully informed about Schlette's disappearance, but that no guard has been posted to protect him.

Judge Halbert, who denied Schlette a writ of habeas corpus in 1960, declared: "If this man

Laotian Prince Sees Viet Peace Only Via Conclave

NEW YORK — Prince Souvanna Phouma, neutralist prime minister of Laos, told President Johnson today he does not believe the conflict in Viet Nam can be "settled by force of arms."

Johnson said the United States does not want to settle it that way, but North Vietnamese President Ho Chi Minh is barring the path to the conference table.

And Johnson said the United States is determined that Communist aggression will not succeed.

Johnson and Souvanna conferred for 50 minutes in the President's 35th-floor suite in the Waldorf Towers, then took a break to brief reporters before resuming their conference.

Souvanna suggested a peace conference along the lines of the Geneva conference of 1954, "perhaps with a much broader membership."

In Washington Secretary of State Dean Rusk says the United States hopes for "a more considered reply" despite the Communists' public rejection of latest American proposals for peace in Viet Nam.

Washington does not accept the turndown as final, Rusk said last night in a speech to the Assn. of the United States Army.

If the Communists are uncertain about the meaning of the new set of proposals for scaling down or ending the war, he added, "the way to clear it up is through discussion."

Earlier in the day, Rusk said the administration "would like to see some help from Moscow on Southeast Asia." He did not elaborate on this comment, made to reporters after he briefed the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

As Rusk discussed the war's diplomatic side effects, another cabinet officer was reviewing its impact on the U.S. economy.

GOP Leaders Don't Want Any Deals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican congressional leaders declared today they will not be a party to any deal or treaty with Communists "anywhere in the world," until the Communists prove they both seek peace and will preserve peace.

The GOP Senate and House leaders, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois and Rep. Gerald R. Ford of Michigan slammed back at President Johnson's accusation yesterday that the GOP is a party of fear without programs for fighting inflation, to ease racial tension, or to end the war in Viet Nam.

Ford pointed to U.S.-Soviet talks on such subjects as air service between the United States and the Soviet Union.

"As thousands of American boys fight, bleed and die in Viet Nam — as the Soviet Union announces an enormous further increase in its economic and military aid to our enemies — this administration must stop, and stop now, its trafficking with the Russians in ways that

Senators Approve $1 Campaign Fund

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted for federal financing of future presidential campaigns but the House is likely to reject the actions as an empty gesture.

A plan worked out by Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., would permit each taxpayer to contribute $1 a year by stating on his tax return he wanted $1 of his tax money to go for this purpose. The proposal won 39-33 support from the Senate yesterday.

Under the Long proposal, each party could dip equally into a pot with a lid linked to the total of ballots cast in the previous presidential election and on the basis of $1 a vote. Presumably this would make $70 million available, to be shared on an equal basis, for financing the major party campaigns in 1968.

The Senate sustained its finance committee action in attaching the campaign contribution plan as a rider to a foreign investment tax bill. Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., who called it extraneous, lost his fight to knock it out of the measure.

However, the House is allergic to that method of legislating by the Senate, particularly when it involves an important issue. Even Long, who heads the finance committee, had little hope that his plan would survive a conference of the two houses on the investment tax bill.

But Long got the public attention he wanted for his proposal, with the long-range objective of getting the House, which must originate all tax measures, to take a look at it next year.

President Johnson proposed a $100 tax reduction for political contributions. But Long said that would save the millionaire $70 in tax and the average citizen only $14. He said his plan would put everybody on the same basis and would wipe out the problems of raising campaign funds.

FULL-VALUE ASSESSMENTS ARE ORDERED

SACRAMENTO (UPI) Property in Sacramento County will be assessed for taxation at 100 per cent of market value instead of the 20 to 25 per cent ratio used throughout the state, assessor Irene Hickman said yesterday.

Mrs. Hickman said state constitutional provisions that "all property subject to taxation shall be assessed for taxation at its full cash value" takes priority over 1966 legislation limiting assessments in the next five years to 20 to 25 per cent.

Mrs. Hickman would become the first California assessor to make assessments at full market value. She said she hopes other counties will follow suit.

G.E. Strike Talks Produc Nothing New

WASHINGTON (AP) — Negotiations aimed at averting a General Electric Co. strike continue today in a pessimistic atmosphere. The talks were described by a special White House mediation panel as "dead center."

About 125,000 members of 11 unions are threatening to strike the huge company at 12:01 a.m. Monday.

The government has been making a major effort to avert the strike, claiming the firm's production is vital to the U.S. war effort in Viet Nam.

The company made a new offer yesterday which Secretary of Commerce John T. Connor described as a "slight improvement." The unions rejected it.

Paul Jennings, president of the AFL-CIO International Union of Electrical Workers, which represents 80,000 workers in the contract dispute, called the new company offer "insignificant."

The new offer was made at the first joint negotiating session since shortly after President Johnson won a two-week strike postponement and moved the talks here from New York.

Relations between the two sides were extremely touchy.

In the largest cities of the United States, with one million inhabitants or more, the accident death rate is substantially lower than for the population of the country as a whole.

Dacron Proves Successful As Blood Vessels

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Dacron substitutes for diseased blood vessels simulate nature so well they even develop the fatty patches characteristic of atherosclerosis, says Dr. Michael E. De Bakey.

The famous Houston, Tex., heart surgeon said today that no other synthetic has been found that works as well for blood vessel replacement.

THROUGH BODY

"We have patients with dacron scattered throughout the body from neck to knees," De Bakey told newsmen at the 52nd annual clinical congress of the American College of Surgeons.

De Bakey moderated a panel on peripheral vascular disease. He said installation of substitute blood vessels had been 95 per cent successful in restoring normal circulation in upper extremities of patients, and up to 90 per cent in lower extremities. The success decreases in the lower extremities with progress of the disease, he said.

Another member of the panel, Dr. W. Andrew Dale of Nashville, Tenn., outlined a new technique of shunting blood from one leg to the other by dissecting a vein, tunneling a foot-long section of it across the lower abdomen and tying it into a vein in the leg needing increased venous flow.

THREE YEARS OLD

The project is three years old, has involved 22 patients and has been successful about 70 per cent of the time, Dr. Dale said.

Dr. Howard Mahorner of the Louisiana State University school of medicine, New Orleans, noted that thrombosis, formation of blood clots, formerly caused 10 per cent of surgical deaths, but causes less than 1 per cent today.

Americans Held In Russ Theft

MOSCOW (AP) — Two young former lieutenants in the U.S. Army have been arrested on a charge of stealing an antique statue of a bear from a Leningrad hotel, the U.S. Embassy reported today.

The two are being held in Leningrad for investigation under part of the Soviet criminal code that provides for up to six years imprisonment on conviction.

The embassy identified them as Buel Wortham of North little Rock, Ark., and Craddock Gilmour of Montclair, N.J.

Gilmour's parents live in Salt Lake City, Utah.

The two Americans were arrested Oct. 1 at the Finnish border as they were driving out of the Soviet Union. An embassy spokesman said the bear "was allegedly discovered in their effects during customs examination."

Only two lethal species of scorpions are found in the United States, both small and slender, in central and southern Arizona.

The Air Force said the two planes must have touched at the top of the loop at an estimated altitude of 6,000 feet. Each plane would have been traveling at about 500 miles per hour at the point of impact.

American Cancer Sleuths To Share 1966 Nobel Prize

STOCKHOLM (UPI) —The 1966 Nobel Prize for medicine was awarded today to two American cancer experts who have devoted their lives to combating the dread disease — Francis Peyton Rous and Charles B. Huggins.

Rous, 87, of Rockefeller University in New York City and Huggins, 65, of the University of Chicago, will split the $60,000 prize which will be presented Dec. 10 in Stockholm by King Gustaf VI Adolf.

It was Rous, the "grand old man of cancer research," who discovered as early as 1911 that cancer could be induced by a virus, a discovery that led to the award today. At 87, he is one of the oldest men to receive the Nobel prize.

Huggins is called the father of the modern era of cancer chemotherapy. It was Huggins who discovered that the introduction of certain chemicals could cause regression of some tumors. He was honored for his discoveries concerning hormonnal treatment of prostatic cancer.

His award specifically was for studies of "physiology and biochemistry of the male urogenital tract, cancer of the prostate and mammary cancer."

Rous, who has received countless international awards throughout his long period of research, gave his name to two different kinds of cancer producing virus —Rous chicken sarcoma virus (RSV) and Rous associated virus (RVA). Subsequent research by Swedish and Russian scientists discovered that RSV inoculated into a mammal created cancer.

Rockefeller University where Rous conducts his research formerly was known as the Rockefeller Institute.

Sonic Boom Jolts Marin Residents

A sonic boom jolted Marin County at 2:12 p.m. yesterday.

Hamilton Air Force Base spokesmen warned Tuesday that an SR-71 reconnaisance aircraft from Beale Air Force Base near Marysville, would be flying at 80,000 feet over the area yesterday, today and tomorrow, and might cause sonic booms.

Yesterday's boom was attributed to that aircraft. "That's about the time they told us they would be in the area," a Hamilton spokesman said.

Each species of waterfowl follows its own routes each year when migrating time comes.

Tiburon Hits Greyhound's Ticket Hike

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Public Utilities Commission opened hearings today on the request of Pacific Greyhound bus lines for a 7 per cent across the board increase in commuter rates and general fares throughout California.

Greyhound contends the estimated $1.8 million annual revenue increase is necessary to take care of wage boosts granted after a driver strike last spring.

The City of Tiburon complained at the opening hearing that the commuter rate spread is inequitable. Assistant City Mgr. Michael Silberstein presented a city council resolution protesting rates comparable with San Rafael.

It said Tiburon is the same distance from San Francisco as Mill Valley and should have the lower rate enjoyed by that city.

A Long Beach spokesman said the proposed increase in commuter rates was too small and that patrons of Greyhound, generally, shouldn't have to make up a deficit on San Francisco commute fares. Long Beach has presented the same argument at previous rate hearings.

shot down in the south were rescued.

A U.S. spokesman said about 10 Communists clutched the civilians to themselves and fired submachine guns and rifles at the approaching 101st Division troopers in the Central Highlands about 230 miles northeast of Saigon.

The paratroopers fired back wounding two civilians who were evacuated for treatment, the spokesman said.

The Americans held their fire when they realized the situation and the guerrillas escaped. The spokesman said the paratroopers suffered no casualties. Guerrillas casualties were not reported immediately.

The incident occurred near the hamlet of My Phu as the paratroopers swept the area in Operation Seward. Since the operation began Sept. 5, 201 Viet Cong have been killed, 64 captured and 753 suspected guerrillas arrested, the spokesman said. U.S. losses have been light.

Allied spokesman said 1,471 Communists were killed last week and another 658 captured. This was about five times the losses of South Vietnamese, American and other allies' casualties combined.

The Americans lost 91 men killed, 604 wounded and 17 missing during the same seven-day period ending Saturday.

McNamara, in Viet Nam on a four-day tour to determine what sort of American buildup is needed to win the war, spent the night on the carrier USS Oriskany in the Tonkin Gulf off the coast of North Viet Nam and toured Marine positions just south of the demilitarized zone today along with Lt. Gen. Lewis Walt, U.S. Marine commander in Viet Nam.

McNamara announced there were no plans for extending the one-year tour of U.S. servicemen fighting in Viet Nam, boosting the morale of thousands of GIs and officers.

is going to kill me, he's going to have to divide his fire a little bit by the time he gets a judge in Marin County, some sheriff's deputies and a former district attorney, and then comes after me in Sacramento . . . I might have some warning."

Halbert said the Federal Bureau of Investigation has kept him "fully advised of the situation for some time." He said, "I'm not any more concerned than I am about any serious matter in life."

Also on Schlette's alleged revenge list are Nick Giampoli, a former San Rafael police inspector; Charles Daniels, San Rafael insurance investigator; Marin Undersheriff Sidney Stinson, and Sheriff's Deputy William Christensen.

Schlette was convicted of setting fire to his ex-wife's Bleu Baie Tavern at Tomales Bay on Sept. 9, 1954. He served 11 years. Last April 13 the Adult Authority granted him a parole, effective June 21.

A few days before that date, however, Folsom prison authorities said they learned from informers that Schlette had talked of slaying several men in revenge for his prison term. It also was alleged that he had shown an inmate a magazine picture of a high-powered rifle he hoped to buy.

Schlette's release was delayed and he was transferred June 13 to Vacaville State Hospital for a 90-day observation period. Psychiatrists there, however, found no reason to delay his parole. He was released Monday.

A requirement of release was that he report early Monday afternoon to his parole officer in Santa Rosa. He also was to be under intensive supervision, reporting to the parole office daily for 30 days.

He was taken from the prison by his mother, Mrs. Muriel U. Schlette of Sonoma. She stopped at Napa, where Schlette went into a department store. He disappeared.

Water District Awards Contract For Road Work

Marin Municipal Water District directors yesterday awarded Cecotti and Sons of San Rafael a contract for repairs to Mesa Verde tank road on its low bid of $1,130.48, but provided that the cost can run up to $5,000.

Six companies bid on the project with other offers ranging to a high of $2,000 by Maggiora and Ghilotti of Corte Madera. However, when the contract was awarded to Cecotti and Sons on its low bid, the directors specified that the cost would be "not more than $5,000.00."

Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger said today this was because the bid is only for paving the road, and did not include equipment rental, etc.

Only bid figures read at the board's public meeting were those for paving. Seeger said Cecotti and Sons were low also on the equipment rental, but amounts for it were not announced at the bid opening.

School Site Court Test Due To Start

Jury trial in a 48-acre condemnation suit for a Tiburon peninsula high school site will begin in Marin Superior Court tomorrow.

The plaintiff, Tamalpais High School District, maintained during earlier jury selection that about $275,000 would be a fair price for the district to pay.

The 140 defendants— many holding second deeds of trust in the property — and trustees in bankruptcy of the estate of Los Angeles Trust Deed and Mortgage Exchange contended the property value is approximately $450,000.

The 48 acres would complete a 51-acre school site adjacent to Belveron Gardens. Richard A. Clarke, attorney for the school district, said the remaining three acres have already been purchased.

Trial is before Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

PEACE

T. Connor said the President stands ready to request wage and price controls if needed to support the military effort in Viet Nam.

But Connor quickly added: "There is no indication now that we will not be able to give our fighting men everything they need to prosecute our cause in Viet Nam and throughout the world just the way we are doing it now — without controls."

In Moscow, Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin, in an obvious slap at Red China, said today that if the Communist nations of the world had been able to present a united front in Viet Nam a quick end would have been put to American intervention there.

(In London, authoritative diplomatic sources told UPI the Kremlin leaders had failed in attempts to call a world Communist summit meeting to condemn Peking's splitting tactics.

(The diplomats said some of the Red bloc allies had balked at such a meeting but that the Russians had not abandoned the idea altogether.)

House Votes Viet Protest Curbs

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House passed overwhelmingly today a bill aimed at activities of some outspoken opponents of the Viet Nam War.

The roll call vote on passage was 275 to 64.

The bill now goes to almost certain death in the Senate, whose leaders have displayed little interest in the controversial measure. It came out of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. It was introduced by Rep. Joe R. Pool, D - Tex., acting chairman of that group.

An effort by Rep. Silvio Conte, R-Mass., to send the bill back to the committee was defeated by voice vote today.

HOW TO KEEP WELL

By DR. THEODORE R. VAN DELLEN

Green Leaves Of Ragwood, Vinegar For Sunburn, Many Home Remedies

A Bostonian found an amusing, but embarrassing, misprint in my column dealing with fibroids of the uterus. We stated that "a pelvic examination is needed to make the diagnosis." The printer made it "a public examination," a far cry from the original.

VAN DELLEN

Hand-me-down remedies die hard. A Hoosier writes: "If the medical profession has not looked into the healing, and especially the pain-killing properties of the green leaves of the lowly ragweed, they are overlooking something."

A few years ago I was asked whether vingear was good for sunburn. I said "No, because vinegar is acetic acid and there is no advantage in irritating a tender lesion." A woman from Maryland challenged our answer with "Whenever someone in our family gets sunburned, my mother applies vinegar. It works better than any commercial sunburn product we have ever used. It also prevents freckling and peeling, even though it makes you smell like a salad."

MY OPINION IS unchanged, but if any pharmaceutical companies want to spend a few millions working on these projects —here is the green light. The oldies have considerable competition from more modern pain killers and sunburn remedies.

We often talk about "the human machine," but there is a limit to how far we can go in our comparisons. From Corpus Christi, Tex., we learn that "Drinking cold water after strenuous work has proven near fatal to at least one man where I work. It seems that their insides crack in much the same way as does a very hot auto block when you pour cold water into the radiator." Our reader may have obtained this idea from an article I wrote on the headache that develops when gulping large mouthfuls of ice cream, especially when the body is sizzling hot.

DRINKING COLD liquids when warm is not harmful. The question is whether warm liquids have a greater cooling effect by encouraging sweating. Cold is definitely more helpful when the cooling mechanism of the body is fatigued as a result of overwork.

(Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request to the I-J.

TEARFUL BABY

Mrs. B. C. writes: Why in the world does my new baby cry all the time?

REPLY

The tot is hungry, uncomfortable, in pain, lonely, bored, or overfatigued. While studying these origins of crying, be sympathetic. Many physicians believe that the only time a child should be allowed to cry it out is when the parents are trying to break a bad habit produced by mismanagement.

LAUNDROMATS AND GERMS

G. S. writes: A friend of mine insists that I risk picking up all sorts of germs, especially venereal, by doing my laundry in a public laundromat. I do not agree. What is your opinion?

REPLY

Of course it doesn't happen. I agree with you, because the hot water and soap are excellent germ killers.

COLOSTOMY REPAIR

V. R. writes: Is a colostomy a permanent thing or can another operation be performed at a later date to restore normal function?

REPLY

The answer depends upon why the colostomy was done. It is temporary when performed to give the large intestine a rest.

NODULAR GOITER

O. K. S. writes: What is an adenoma goiter?

REPLY

Enlarged thyroid containing one or more tumors (adenomas).

Ford said he was not closing out support for a nuclear nonproliferation treaty, now under U.S.-Soviet discussion, if there is "absolute assurance" of bona fide inspection against cheating.

Dirksen said Johnson's statements about the Republican party were "like so much else voiced by this administration. They simply are not true."

"We do not admit to being a party of fear," said Dirksen.

"But we do admit, as a people, to being concerned about this administration and the many unwise courses it has chosen to take."

Armed Robbery Suspect Taken To Santa Rosa

A Marin armed robbery suspect has been transferred to Sonoma County Jail as a security precaution and because he damaged his cell, sheriff's officers disclosed today.

The suspect is Ronald Harold Berg, 21, of San Rrancisco, who faces Marin Superior Court trials on three felony charges, including two armed robberies.

Sheriff's officers said Berg and his cellmate, Marc Torvend Ford, 18, had scratched paint in the cell and littered the floor. Ford, awaiting sentence for using stolen credit cards and possession of narcotics, also was transferred to the Santa Rosa jail.

the truth of the matter is . . .
Most Redwoods are no older than existing stands of fir, hemlock and cedar*
*University of California report, 1965
The majority of the redwoods throughout the redwood region are comparatively young stands . . . no older than stands of other types of trees on the west coast. Healthy, young commercial forests of redwoods guarantee redwoods forever. Lyle Klubben, U. S. Forest Service, California Region, has said, "We are constantly hearing about despoilment of the redwoods, yet there are more redwoods standing today than ever before in our history . . ."
Redwoods are already protected in 116,000 acres of state parks!
Some 116,000 acres of government-owned redwood parklands already stretch throughout the redwood region, along with the 6,000 acres of outstanding groves being held by private owners until they can be acquired as parklands. There are, in fact, more than enough large, park-type redwoods in state parks now to make a solid row from San Francisco to Washington, D. C.
The forest products industry is growing and vital
. . . increasing the income of the area and providing recreation. This healthy industry supports at least 70 per cent of the redwood region's economy. Irresponsible park proposals would slash millions of dollars off California's tax rolls needlessly and raise your share of the taxes still more. They would wipe out $13,000,000 a year in payrolls and would shut off the millions of investment dollars going into future forest products industry job-creating programs now underway.
Get the Facts— See for Yourself
Drive through the redwood region. See for yourself the more than 122,000 acres of park-type redwoods now being preserved, both in state parks and private lands. Visit a redwood demonstration forest. Enjoy the 365,000 acres of taxpaying, privately-owned recreation lands open to all the public for all types of outdoor activity, such as hunting, fishing, hiking and picnicking.

Despite official reassurances that nothing was wrong with their savings accounts, hundred of San Francisco Chinatown residents lined up yesterday to withdraw $2.6 million from their branch of the San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Co. (UPI Telephoto)

Rumor In Chinatown Frightens Depositors

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rumors, blamed on a political plot, started a $2.6 million run yesterday at the Chinatown branch of the San Francisco Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

Lim P. Lee, acting San Francisco postmaster and a Chinatown resident, told a reporter the rumors were false and part of an organized plot to get at J. K. Choy, 75, branch vice president and general manager.

KNEW OF PLOT

Choy, a political power among Chinatown's 42,000 residents, is outspoken and has advocated unionizing workers in the enclave's garment factories. He said he learned of the plot three weeks ago and noted, "It is well organized."

Trouble started with a series of anonymous telephone calls and the dumping of a load of garbage in front of the branch. The garbage is the Chinese way of saying something doesn't smell well.

Orderly lines of depositors withdrew the cash from around noon until 9 p.m., the bank staying open three additional hours to accommodate them. The branch lost 800 depositors.

Donald W. Mitchell, San Francisco Federal president, declared: "These purposely circulated rumors are absolutely false" and added that his association "was never in a sounder financial condition."

The association has eight San Francisco Bay Area branches and the run was only the Chinatown branch.

Depositors stayed in line to withdraw their funds despite pleas from Kingsley E. Thomas, Federal Home Loan Bank vice president, and Ben Swig, a hotelman.

PHONE CALL TOLD

Using a loudspeaker, Thomas told the crowd: "This soundly operated institution has no problems whatsoever." He urged customers to leave their money where it was."

Swig, through an interpreter, told the line: "I assure you that this institution is as safe as any you can put your money in. This rumor is false."

Mrs. Catherine Lee, wife of the acting postmaster, said she was in a garment factory at 11 a.m. when an anonymous telephone caller said, "You'd better go down to San Francisco Federal and draw your money out, because it's closing."

Mitchell, who said the rumors were "of a political nature to get J. K. Choy," declared his association has assets of $208 million and reserves of over $15 million, or $5.6 million in excess of legal requirements.

Agency Apt To Adjourn Until Nov. 3

There will be no meeting of the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission next Thursday at 8 p.m.

What probably will happen will be the appearance of commission chairman Jan Paul Dyk, who will rule that there is no quorum and continue scheduled hearings on the Strawberry proposals until Nov. 3.

On Nov. 3, the hearings will be formally scheduled for Nov. 10 and 17.

Commission executive officer John F. Barrows said his involved procedure is necessary because there is some doubt that attorney Stephen H. Kaufmann can stipulate for continuance on behalf of the 42 petitioners who are asking incorporation of Strawberry.

Tiburon and Mill Valley, with conflicting annexation plans on the territory, have both agreed to a continuance.

Vehicle Scatters Gate Six Mailboxes

Approximately 40 mailboxes at Gate Six, Waldo Point, were knocked down, possibly by a truck, on Monday night or early Tuesday, according to the Marin County sheriff's office.

Deputies said the mail boxes, mounted on a long fence, were scattered over a 25-foot area. There were tire marks at the scene.

Citizen Mis-Named

A new citizen, Mrs. Bernice McClure of 16 Dellwood Court, San Rafael, was incorrectly identified in Tuesday's Independent-Journal as Mrs. Bernice Boyle. Mrs. McClure was among 20 Marin residents naturalized as U.S. citizens last month. Boyle was Mrs. McClure's maiden name.

Industries Back Railroad Attempt To Drop Zephyr

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Western Pacific Railroad should spend the money it loses on the California Zephyr passenger streamliner on improving its freight trains, a shipper declared Wednesday.

Testifying at an Interstate Commerce Commission hearing was Charles S. Spanos, purchasing and traffic manager for a Cleveland, Ohio, engineering firm.

The hearing concerns W.P.'s petition to discontinue its operation of the Zephyr between Salt Lake City and the San Francisco Bay Area. Between Chicago and Denver the train is operated by the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Road and between Denver and Salt Lake it runs over the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad.

A freight carrier must supply efficient equipment where and when major shippers require it and that necessitates major financial investments, Spanos said.

If such investments are "imperiled by the necessity of financing non-productive service, such as the kind needed for passenger transportation," freight shippers suffer, he continued.

"If Western Pacific is unable to keep up with our demands and necessities, we cannot . . . maintain a working relationship with this carrier," he said. "Consequently its competitor will have to meet our requirements when Western Pacific is unable to do so."

Agreeing with his line of testimony were other witnesses, including: P. Steele Labagh, California Packing Corp., director, San Francisco; Morris K. Leahy, Chris-Craft Industries, Inc., vice president, Oakland; Barrett Klopfer, Stanford Register Co., vice president; Oakland; Robert Clement, California Almond Growers Exchange, traffic manager, Sacramento.

'Troubled Child' Series Scheduled

A three-part series on "The Troubled Child" will be presented by the Marin Assn. for Mental Health beginning at 8 p.m., Oct. 26, in the multi-purpose room of Bernard Hoffman School, Terra Linda.

The two other programs are scheduled Nov. 2 and Nov. 9. Conducting the series is Jack Danielson, school psychologist, of Dixie School District.

Truck Award Delayed

Novato Fire District Commission last night agreed to delay awarding a contract for a $70,000 aerial truck until the full commission can be present. Commissioner Peter J. Ferraresse was absent last night.

Charter Revision Committee Faces Heavy Agenda

The San Rafael Charter Revision Committee has scheduled a heavy agenda for its meeting Monday at 8 p.m. in the city hall conference room.

Up for discussion will be streamlining the city's election procedures and bringing them into line with those of the state, how appointments should be made on the board of education, and whether special taxes for library and retirement funds should have limitations.

The committee will also deal with the article on granting franchises, the method of filling vacancies on the city council in the event of a majority of vacancies, and whether the charter needs a section prohibiting discrimination in city employment.

Some of these items have been taken up before, but the committee's policy is to submit all recommendations to two votes.

Up to two-thirds or three-fourths of the net cost of an urban renewal project may be paid for by the federal goverment.

Trustees May Order Building Safety Check

Tomales Bay School District trustees will be asked to hire a structural engineering firm to see if three district school buildings — Tomales, Marshall and Bloomfield — meet earthquake safety standards set in the 1933 Field Act when it meets at 8 p.m. Monday at Tomales school.

Only one of the buildings, Tomales Elementary School, is in use. It was built in 1929. The school at Marshall was built in 1888 and the Bloomfield School in 1908, according to Tomales Principal David Raffo.

Both Camps Hurl New Charges As California Vote Fever Rises

COMBINED AP & UPI

Charges the state is bankrupt and a candidate's demands that members of Congress spend seven days of active duty in Viet Nam today added more fuel to California's increasingly torrid pre-election campaigning.

Assemblyman Houston I. Flournoy, R - Claremont, the GOP challenger for state controller, accused Gov. Edmund G. Brown, Controller Alan Cranston and other Democrats in government of "a cynical conspiracy" to prevent public knowledge of the state's "bankrupt condition" until after the Nov. 8 election.

URGES WAR DUTY

And in Chico, William H. Romack Jr., Republican nominee for Congress from the 2nd District, said congressmen should spend at least a week on "active, front-line duty with a combat unit in Viet Nam."

Romack said this would "be a maturing experience for all in a better understanding of the horrible price of war as an instrument of foreign policy . . ." and offered to be among the first to go if he's elected.

Democratic Governor Brown and Republican Ronald Reagan continued their compaigns for governor in vote-rich Southern California.

CITES POLLS

Reagan called "too late and too little" Brown's recent appointment of a citizen's commision to study ways to improve the Rumford Act on open housing. Asserting that Brown once called opponents of the housing act "the shock troops of bigotry," Reagan added:

"But now it is election year and the governor has seen polls that show three - fourths of the people oppose the Rumford Act. That's too big a body of the shock troops of bigotry for the governor to let go by—he needs that vote, too," and charged that Brown pushed the act through the legislature "in the final hours without the debate needed."

Brown hammered away once more at what he called Reagan's "extremist ties," and declared that the GOP contender's "Creative Society" is a ultra-conservative inspired mixture of "fear and hatred and intolerance."

Brown said the "Creative Society" program is not really Reagan's but is instead the brainchild of Dr. W.S. McBirnie, whom the governor called "the extremist radio commentator and sometime Glendale evangelist." McBirnie later disclaimed credit for the idea, saying it was wholly Reagan's.

BUDGET CLAIMS

Flournoy issued a statement saying the state faces a $350 million budget deficit next year, despite administration claims there will be a $250 million surplus.

"Nowhere are we told that this is merely a 'paper balance,'" said Flournoy. "It's all that will be left, even on the books, from a $370 million advance of revenues resulting from the so-called accrual accounting adopted this year." The accrual method counts as revenues that money owed the state but not yet collected.

Spencer Williams, Republican candidate for attorney general, said he opposes the movement to limit pre - trial publicity of criminal cases. He contended adequate "safeguards now are available" to protect the rights of an individual to a fair trial.

"The history of American journalism is sprinkled with cases where newspapers have uncovered evidence to free the innocent and the ignorant," said Williams.

PENSION BLAST

The political campaign erupted today into Republican charges that Governor Brown was trying to buy votes of old age assistance recipients and Democratic counter-charges that the GOP attack is a "campaign fraud."

Robert Finch, republican candidate for lieutenant governor, charged Brown with delaying $4 monthly increments in benefits to accumulate a one-time "bonus" for recipients a month before the November election.

"Mr. Finch is wrong," retorted Paul Ward, administrator of the state Health and Welfare Agency. "He knows he is wrong and he is making a cynical and irresponsible bid for votes."

Finch accused Brown of holding up the $4 benefit increase authorized to go into effect last July 1 to accumulate a $12 bonus in the October distribution of Old Age Security (OAS) funds.

Ward said the funds for additional $4 were voted in the state budget June 30; a letter was sent to counties July 7, and rules for disbursing the funds were adopted July 19.

Ward indicated all counties except Los Angeles had begun the distributions soon after but it "took a little longer for Los Angeles County because of the size of the caseload." He said the Los Angeles checks were mailed Sept. 30.

"Mr. Finch's statement insults the older people whose votes he apparently thinks can be bought for a few dollars," Ward said, "and he insults the Los Angeles County Bureau of Public Assistance which is responsible for issuing the old age security money he cites."

Committee Takes Pike's Resignation

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Standing Committee of the Episcopal Diocese of California has accepted the resignation of Bishop James A. Pike as an auxiliary prelate.

Pike announced yesterday that he was relinquishing the title to avoid involving the diocese in his current heresy battle with Bishop Henry Louittit of southern Florida.

Pike was given the honorary title of auxiliary bishop after he resigned Sept. 15 as bishop of California. He resigned so that he could devote his full time as a staff member of the Center for the Study of Democratic Institutions in Santa Barbara.

The standing committee said that from now on Pike would be known as the retired bishop of California.

Cycle, Pickup Truck Collide; Youths Injured

An 18-year-old Woodacre motorcyclist and his 15-year-old passenger suffered leg injuries when the cycle collided with a pickup truck on a blind curve on Bolinas Road, just west of Fairfax, at 5:55 p.m. yesterday, according to the California Highway Patrol.

Officers said an eastbound motorcycle driven by John Perry Teters of 209 Railroad Avenue collided with a westbound truck driven by Paul Hughes, 27, of Penngrove, Sonoma County, throwing the cycle's driver and passenger to the roadway.

Teters, who suffered cuts and bruises of the lower left leg, was taken to Ross General Hospital. His passenger, David Lee Oppelt, of 64 Monte Vista Road, Fairfax, who suffered leg pains, was taken to Ross General Hospital and transferred to Marin General Hospital, officers reported.

Parole Violator

Sema Horn, 34, 29 Balra Drive, Novato, was arrested last night on a warrant issued in Sonoma Municipal Court, charging violation of probation. Mrs. Horn was booked at Marin County jail with bail set at $1,100.

seniority plus effectiveness equals Senator Jack McCARTHY

Seniority is a near necessity to be most successful in the State Senate. Add to this — ability, persuasion and determination and you have a man who gets things done. Jack McCarthy is that type of Senator. His broad record of accomplishments are a testimonial to his effectiveness. When re-elected in November, he will be fourth in seniority. A recognized leader of the Senate, he will not only represent his district (Marin, Napa and Solano) well but be the North's best defense against Southern California numerical domination.

Both Sides Cheer Record Voter List

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The camps of both Democratic Gov. Brown and Republican challenger Ronald Reagan found cause for optimism today in final pre-election registration figures showing a record number of eligible voters.

Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan's report counted 8,340,868 persons registered to vote Nov. 8. That compared to 8,184,143 in the presidential election year of 1964 and marked the first time more Californians are registered to cast ballots in a contest for governor than for President.

The report also showed Republicans gaining 169,718 voters to increase their share of the total to 40.2 per cent. Democrats, meanwhile, dropped 17,289 in total registration, reducing their percentage to 56.6 of all eligible voters.

Despite GOP gains and their own losses, Democrats still held a wide edge with 4,720,597 registered voters to 3,350,990 for the Republicans.

Reagan, campaigning in Riverside, said the new figures "make it clear that the people of California are increasingly unhappy and discontented with eight years of the current administration."

A spokesman for Brown said the governor "is very happy with these figures. The percentage of registered Democrats and Republicans is exactly the same as it was in 1962 when Gov. Brown defeated Richard Nixon by 300,000 votes."

Since 1964, Democrats suffered their greatest reverses in vote-heavy Los Angeles County. While they were dropping 36,830 in registration, Republicans were compiling their heaviest gains in the same county, 13,285.

But Democrats still held the edge in all but four of California's 58 counties — Alpine, Marin, Mono and Orange.

Orange County moved into second place among the counties in total registration with 518,004 — including 269,129 Republicans.

Los Angeles remained the leader with 3,111,516 registered, broken down into 1.79 million Democrats and 1.21 Republicans. The county alone accounted for 37 per cent of all the state's eligible voters.

Together with two other Southern California counties—Orange and San Diego — Los Angeles represented 47.5 per cent of the possible vote in November.

Of the total registration, 269,281 or 3.2 per cent showed no preference for either major party.

Here is the county-by-county registration with Democrats listed first, Republicans second and then totals:

Pre-School Project Expected To Bring Another Big Fight

MARIN COUNTY'S superintendent of schools and board of education are heading for a showdown.

It won't be the first such showdown, nor, probably, the last. Superintendent and board have found themselves on collision courses frequently since both became elective a decade ago.

The issue is always a variation of the basic question, "Who's boss?"

Of late, Supt. Virgil S. Hollis and the board have been operating on a system of what Hollis calls "shared responsibility." Some members of the board do not seem to be quite sure what this is.

AS PART OF the "shared responsibility," the board has been on a committee system. Its seven members are divided among several committees. These hold committee meetings on the Monday nights when the regular board meeting is not scheduled. It is there they get information from members of Hollis's staff about projects underway or planned.

The theory of the committee system is that it enables each member to be well informed on the particular subjects with which his committee deals, so that it is not necessary to "brief" the whole board at the regular board meetings — which are inclined to run long, anyhow.

It has not been working too well, partly because attendance at committee meetings has been spotty. Also, the full board has sometimes wanted "briefing" even though some of its members had acquainted themselves with the subject in committee.

THE PENDING showdown seems to have resulted directly from Hollis's going to the county board of supervisors for approval of a county-wide pre-school project after the board of education had twice turned it down 4 to 3.

Until 1956, county boards of education in California were appointed, with the county superintendent being elected. However, a change in the law resulted that year in elective county boards for the first time.

When the law was changed for election of the county boards, the superintendent was left elective also. Immediately there developed questions as to whose authority prevailed in what areas. The law was — and is — unclear.

MARIN'S FIRST elective board was composed largely of persons who had served previously by appointment. Their relations with County Supt. Wallace W. Hall continued largely on the same basis they had been when he was elected and they were not.

By the time Hollis was elected, there had been changes on the board. Also, his approach to the office was different from Hall's. During his first year in office, superintendent-board relations were quite strained, as anyone who attended the board meetings could easily see. Gradually, however — partly due to election of new board members —a sort of working arrangement came about. It was what Hollis calls "shared responsibility."

Through the years, the theory has been that, whatever prerogatives were held by the superintendent, the board held the purse strings. On that theory, the board majority thought it had killed the pre-school program when it voted it down.

HOLLIS DIDN'T think so. He took his case to the supervisors. They, without questioning anyone on the board of education as to its reasons for the turndown, voted unanimously to authorize the pre-school program, which is to be financed with federal funds.

This left the education board somewhat high and dry.

There were rumblings at the one board meeting since then. But no showdown came. It is expected to come, however, at the next meeting, Nov. 7 at 8 p.m. in the county schools office in the former McGraw-Hill Book Co. building in Corte Madera.

Terra Linda High's Spirit At High Pitch

This week is spirit week for students at Terra Linda High School, and most of the excitement will take place tomorrow: election of a homecoming queen, a parade and crowning of the queen.

A football game with arch rival San Rafael High School will begin at 8 p.m. at the San Rafael field.

Students tomorrow will select the queen from a slate of five candidates named by the varsity football squad. Candidates are Sue Brookover, Leslie Bowman, Jackie Bridges, Sue Baldwin and Cathy Von Lehr.

The parade will start from Fourth and E Streets in downtown San Rafael at 7 p.m., go east to Union Street, then north to Mission Avenue and thence to the football field where floats will be judged and the girl with the most votes crowned.

Education Creativity Committee To Meet

The Marin County advisory committee, North Bay Projects to Advance Creativity in Education, will hold its second meeting Oct. 20 at 7:30 p.m. in the county superintendent of schools office at 201 Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Results of the survey to determine what student needs are not met will be announced. Advisory committees in Marin, Napa, Solano and Sonoma counties will assist in developing a priority system for student needs identified in the survey.

Forest Films Booked

Two Forest Service films, "A Tree Is Born" and "The Forest," will be shown at the next meeting of the Garden Society of Marin at 8 p.m. Oct. 21 in the chemistry building, College of Marin.

Visit To LBJ Thrills Beauty

WASHINGTON (UPI) —"Fabulous . . . such a thrill," burbled Denice Blair, Miss U.S.A. of 1967. She was referring to President Johnson.

The 36-23-36 beauty from Layton, Utah, went to the White House Tuesday to meet the President, who wished her luck in the Miss World contest in London Nov. 17.

The 19-year-old Miss Blair, who was escorted to her brief meeting with Johnson by Sen. Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, described the President as "a big man, very tall, stately, a very nice man."

Detroit Bank Fails; Biggest Since 1930s

DETROIT (AP) — The Public Bank of Detroit, nine years old and more than $1 million in the red, failed yesterday in one of the biggest bank failures since the Depression.

It was immediately taken over by the Bank of the Commonwealth, which issued a statement saying all desposits were safe.

The demise of the institution, certified at a secret court session after midnight, surprised the 3,000 stockholders and President James H. McGuire alike.

Michigan Banking Commissioner Charles D. Slay said the bank "simply owed more than it owned" because of "sabotage and conflict of interest" among its directors. He named no names.

The bank's fate was sealed at the court session which began Tuesday afternoon and was presided over by Wayne County Circuit Judge Benjamin Burdick.

Slay asked Burdick that the bank be thrown into involuntary receivership because it was insolvent. Burdick granted the request and appointed the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. as receiver.

The FDIC immediately sold the assets and deposit liabilities to the Bank of the Commonwealth, and the sale was approved by the court.

Almonte Collision Hurts Two Men

Two persons were injured in a head-on auto crash on Almonte Boulevard, north of Rosemont Avenue, Almonte, when one driver crossed the center line at 2 p.m. yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said a Southbound car driven by Norris Lee Bogue, 28, of San Lorenzo, Alameda County, crossed the center line and collided with a northbound car driven by Frank G. Hunt, 46, of Redwood City. Hunt's car was knocked off the roadway to the edge of a steep embankment.

Hunt, suffered cuts of the left knee and face and was treated at Marin General Hospital. Gerald Moyot, 27, of Hayward, a passenger in Bogue's car, suffered a cut forehead. He told officers he would see his own doctor.

State Hospital Nurses Picket For Pay Hikes

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Uniformed registered nurses from state hospitals picketed the main entrance of the State Capitol today for higher pay.

"People in white with salaries in red," was the message of one placard.

One was asked if she had received flu shots.

"Of course," she said. "We're good nurses."

The picketing, off-duty nurses at the Capitol were from the Stockton, Modesto and DeWitt mental hospitals. More were expected later from Napa.

The California Nurses Assn. said it also planned to picket 30 state-operated health facilities and state buildings at San Francisco and Los Angeles today and tomorrow. The association is seeking a five-step increase in the wage scale for the 1,900-state employed registered nurses from the present range of $505 to $585 a month to a range of $644-783 a month.

The State Personnel Board is scheduled to hold a public hearing in San Francisco Oct. 21 on salaries of nurses and related personnel who work for the state. Also, the nurses have been told that Gov. Edmund G. Brown would seek an emergency appropriation to finance any increase that is granted.

A nurses' association spokesman said a proposed 25 per cent emergency increase, sought by the nurses, would boost their salaries to "approximately the same relationship that existed before the recent salary increases given by private and other public agencies."

Other pickets, labelled as informational, proclaimed: "The best of treatment for lowest salaries." "Work now, pay later?" and "Keep registered nurses in state service."

Pickets were to be placed at the Napa State Hospital this afternoon and tomorrow. Fifteen nurses picketed the state building in Los Angeles.

Various Loot Taken In Home Burglary

Thieves broke into Louis John Nave's home at 405 Fairway Drive, Novato, last night and stole liquor, a watch and a movie camera, valued in total at $425, Novato police reported.

Entrance was through a rear door, police said.

Commission Sets Acacia Tree Hearing

Hearings to decide the fate of two pair of unpopular acacia trees were set last night by Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission.

Mrs. Virginia Swall of 77 Estelle Avenue has asked for the removal of two acacias located on Bayo Vista Avenue, which overhang her property.

Carol Blaha of 10 Frances Avenue has asked that two acacias outside her home be chopped down.

The commission set hearings on both for its meeting on Nov. 9 at 8 p.m. at city hall.

The Larkspur Park and Recreation Commission also:

1. Approved abandonment of Bush Street since there are no plans for park development in the area.

2. Reviewed Larkspur's park development plan, and decided that the second phase development of Larkspur's park should include tennis courts. The city staff was asked to prepare cost figures for the project before the next commission meeting.

3. Requested commission secretary Robert V. Golden to meet with city officials to prepare a revised draft of the tree ordinance.

MOST MARIN STATIONS HIKING PRICE OF GAS

The price of gasoline has risen one cent a gallon at most service stations in Marin.

The increase on both regular and premium grades is in line with higher prices established by Sacramento service station dealers last week. The increase has been gradually spreading throughout the Bay Area.

Most outlets in Marin are now charging 33.9 cents for regular and 36.9 for premium gasoline. A few dealers who have regularly charged about two cents less per gallon than the larger chains have not yet raised their prices, but may do so.

Distributors for the major oil companies said there had been no change in the wholesale price to dealers and none was contemplated.

Dealers have been operating on a four to five-cent markup, depending on the rent charged for the station.

Greenbrae Owners Defer Formal Route 7 Action

Members of Greenbrae Property Owners Assn. last night debated Highway 17 proposals but deferred formal action until they get more information next week.

Members were reminded a public meeting with a representative of the State Division of Highways is scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the multipurpose room in Wolfe Grade School.

Consideration was given last night to the southern route of six lanes with a provision for expansion to eight lanes at Laurel Grove Avenue and Sir Francis Drake Boulevard and then on to Ross and San Anselmo.

The meeting also heard James Robertson, county traffic engineer, propose a solution to a problem of safe walkways on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Greenbrae.

Robertson suggested putting sidewalks on existing streets at Corte Morada, Bretano Way and Almenar Drive. The association decided the study the proposals further.

Final plans were made for the harvest ball to be held at 7 p.m. Saturday at the Peacock Gap Country Club. Mrs. Fred Brenlin who is ball co-chairman with Donald Lord, was assigned to accept reservations.

About 600 people are expected to take part in the Halloween parade to begin at Eliseo Drive and Via La Cumbre at 6 p.m. Oct. 31 and proceed to Greenbrae School. Prizes will be awarded costumed children in various age groups.

Judge Criticizes Sheppard Trial Photo Actions

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (UPI)—A Colorado Supreme Court justice criticized as "ridiculous" yesterday action by a Cleveland judge confiscating pictures taken by a United Press International photographer covering the Sam Sheppard case.

The photograph was taken in the office of a court bailiff. It showed newsmen picking up credentials to attend a Sheppard hearing.

Justice O. Otto Moore, who is attending the Colorado Judicial Conference here, said the newspaperman should have kept the film instead of allowing it to be turned over to Common Pleas Judge Francis Talty.

Moore said he failed to see how photographs taken two days before the hearing and in the office of a court bailiff "could have anything at all to do" with prejudicing the new trial.

Directors Pass Unit Safety Plan

Mariners Cove Improvement Assn. directors last night approved a proposal by Corte Madera Town Mgr. Ronald L. Usher that the town's police and fire departments convert to a public safety system with men trained to perform the functions of both police and firemen.

Association president Albert J. Boro explained the plan, which recommends that if firemen must be hired to man the Paradise Drive sub-station, they should be public safety officers with the joint duties.

Boro said the association will back the recommendation when it is presented to the Corte Madera Town Council.

The executive board arranged a general meeting for Oct. 21 at 8 p.m. at San Clemente School when a California Highway Patrol officer will be guest speaker.

Board Lacks Quorum

Last night's scheduled meeting of the Laguna School District board was cancelled for lack of a quorum, according to board president Agnes Terribilini. Board Clerk Antone Moreda was away on a hunting trip, she said. There are only three members.

OTHER PEOPLE'S BUSINESS

By HARRY CRAFT

Women's Store Will Occupy New Building Quarters On B Street

Possibly opening tomorrow is a new women's ready-to-wear store—Trixie of Marin—at 936 B Street, San Rafael.

"Trixie" is Mrs. Beatrice Savage of Loch Lomond. She has leased through Harry Abras of Timmer Realty the remaining half of the building recently completed by Mrs. Dorothy Eberwein to replace the one that was destroyed by fire some time ago.

Mrs. Savage formerly had her own store in San Francisco but for the last two years has been busy raising her family. Husband William is in the real estate business in San Francisco.

The store will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. daily, with evening hours to 9 on Wednesdays and Fridays. Merchandise will include casuals, dresses and coats and junior petite models.

SAUSALITO TRAVEL SERVICE, formerly in the Village Fair at 745 Bridgeway, has moved to 33 Caledonia Street, Sausalito. Morris Fiksdal still heads the agency, but new manager is Jack McIntyre, with Dee Fabulae assisting.

FOUR MARIN COUNTY boat and yacht sales firms are now closing on Tuesdays: Western Boat Shop, Chris Craft Sales, Channel Boat Sales and Loch Lomond Yacht Sales, but they will continue holding open on Saturdays and Sundays. The Sausalito firm of Bauman Brothers and Dick Miller Associates has been observing Tuesday closing for several years.

JAMES K. SPECK of Larkspur has opened an office at 225 Kearny Street, San Francisco, specializing in public relations for industrial and commercial concerns. His business is known as the J. Speck Organization. Previously he was with Carl Byoir and Associates as Northern California manager, and before that served with Burroughs Corp. and with several western daily newspapers in editorial capacities.

TWO INVESTMENT SEMINARS discussing mutual funds, sponsered by Reynolds and Co., will be held Oct. 20 from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Terra Linda Recreation Center, 670 Del Ganado Road and at the Marin Art and Garden Center in Ross.

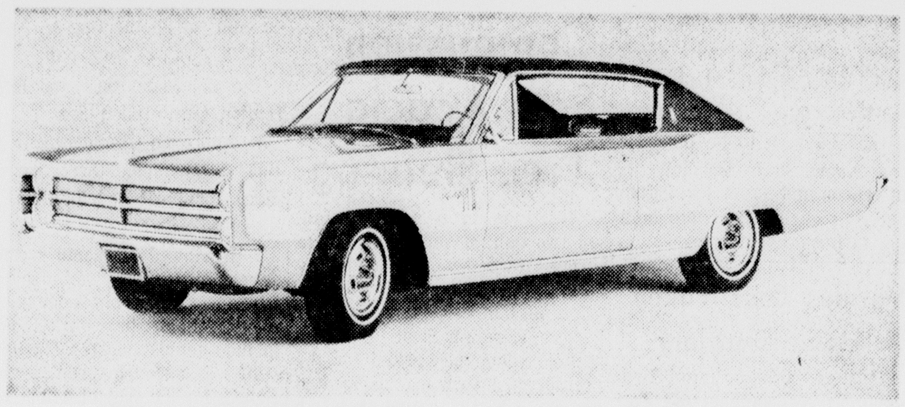

The Terra Linda meeting will be conducted by Terrence H. Howard of Santa Venetia. David Egan of San Anselmo will preside over the Ross meeting. Both are account executives with Reynolds and reservations may be made by calling the San Francisco office.

ON HIGH TAXES: Aaron Hiller of Novato, Northern California territorial divisional manager for Genesco, has written an article in the recent issue of the Coast Shoe Reporter against the present California Business Property Tax Law, which he holds is discriminatory against the small retailer who must carry heavy inventories to compete in business . . .

Bank of America has taken a stand against increases in corporate and personal tax rates, contending that the answer to inflation and the current "tight money" situation is to cut back non-essential government spending programs . . .

Los Angeles County property owners have organized an association called the L. A. Tax Strike to fight exorbitant taxes and confiscation of personal property through arbitrary assessments. Members pay their property tax money into an insured trust account instead of to the tax collector. The fund draws interest, partially offsetting the 6 per cent charged by the county on delinquent taxes. Hopefully the deficit in county receipts will force reevaluation of assessments and bring some tax relief. The method was said to have been successful in Chicago.

TAHITIAN TIKIS, IMPORTS, Tiburon celebrated its sixth anniversary last Sunday — congratulations. With the turnover in retail stores along Main Street, this one now qualifies as one of the oldtimers. Mrs. George Bertecivic, the owner, handles goods from all over the South Pacific.

PLYMOUTH FURY HAS BIG CAR LOOK

An all-new exterior appearance and three new hardtop roofs combine to give the 1967 Fury a distinctive look. Including this sport Fury two-door fast top, there are 25 models in five series, with a choice of five engines. All Plymouth models except the Barracuda are now on display at Wayne Plymouth, Novato; Doug Dicker Chrysler-Plymouth, San Rafael; and Marin Chrysler-Plymouth, Mill Valley.

Bank Urges Cut In U.S. Outlay

SAN FRANCISCO—A cutback in non-essential government spending programs is "imperative" if the current tight money situation is to be relieved, according to a Bank of America special report.

"We are convinced that the answer to inflation now requires a concerted and balanced program of restraint in both the public and private sectors," the bank's "Focus on Tight Money" report states.

In summarizing the bank's stand on the tight money problem, the report also stated a reluctance to see corporate and personal taxes raised except as a last resort.

Market Closes With Scrambled Prices As Trading Holds Heavy

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed with prices scrambled today. Trading was heavy.

The market backed away from a sharp early rise. After the first half hour the level gradually decreased.

The industrial average dropped sharply in the final hour but the over-all average managed to remain pretty much on an even keel.

It was the fourth day of a vigorous recovery drive following last week's plunge.

Xerox halved a 10-point rise.

Losses were shown by such stocks as Du Pont, AT&T, Union Carbide and Zenith.

Volume for the day was estimated at 8.6 million shares compared with 6.92 million yesterday.

The best early rise was pared considerably. Fairly sharp losses occurred among some leading issues as in-and-out traders sold.

Zenith lost more than 2. Down about a point were Itek, Addressograph, Du Pont, Homestake, Union Carbide and AT&T.

A 10-point leap by Xerox followed a temporary trading halt in the stock as a report was published that the company had accounced five new high-speed office copying machines.

IBM and Fairchild Camera rose about 4, Johnson and Johnson, McGraw-Hill, Avon Products and Bristol-Myers about 3 each.

Up about 2 were Polaroid, Pfizer, Schering, Sinclair Oil, American Home Products and Delta Airlines.

Leading motor stocks were fractional losers. Steels were lower on balance. Jones & Laughlin dropped 1.

Gains of a point or more were made by Eastman Kodak, American Can, RCA, General Dynamics, Sears Roebuck, Texaco and Baltimore and Ohio.

Prices were higher in heavy trading on the American Stock Exchange.

Sears To Open Concord Store

SAN FRANCISCO — Sears, Roebuck and Co. will open its new store in Concord on Oct. 19.

More than 15 years of storekeeping in Walnut Creek will come to an end with the opening of Sears a few miles away at the new Contra Costa location. Sears opened its retail outlet in October, 1951, featuring hard lines, appliances and a two-car service station.

The new store consists of a main sales building with 50 departments including a garden sales area, a 24-car capacity automotive center and a parking lot for 1,804 cars.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Utilities-Heavy Portfolio Could Well Be Diversified

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. "Besides my portfolio of income stocks for my living expenses, I own 1,500 First United Life Insurance on which I ask your opinion. Also should I use part of my $30,000 savings reserve to buy more stocks?" —J.M.

A. Yes, it would be desirable to broaden your portfolio, now largely concentrated in utilities. Keeping in mind the income objective, I recommend Norfolk and Western; Atchison Railway; Dana Corp; General Motors; Lorillard or Reynolds Tobacco; Standard Oil of New Jersey or others mentioned here recently.

Your insurance stock has followed the general downtrend of its group. Operating for 10 years within a limited area of midwestern states, the company seems well managed and is growing. If you invested for long-term holding to assist the promotion of a local enterprise, you should hold the shares. Further expansion of the company should keep pace with economic developments in the sales area. If you want to move out, the shares are regularly—but not too actively — traded through Chicago and Indianapolis dealers.

Q. "What is your opinion of Pacific Intermountain Express? I understand it pays $1.80 quarterly on shares worth $18. I need more income than I receive from 300 shares of North American Aviation and 14 shares of Pittsburgh Plate Glass." A. L.

A. First, may I correct the dividend rate you quote for PIE? The indicated rate is 80 cents a year, or 15 cents quarterly with 20 cents as a year-end extra in 1965. This provides a 5.3 per cent yield at current trading levels. On the same basis, North American Aviation yields 6.5 per cent and Pittsburgh Plate Glass 4.6 per cent. If the latter two were converted into PIE shares your annual income would drop about $140.

In my judgment PIE—a speculative issue subject to cyclical influences—is not right for you. Hold Pittsburgh Plate Glass and 100 North American Aviation. Use the cash released to buy two of the income issues listed above.

CONFERENCE SPEAKER Hubert S. Hunter, deputy chief administrator for the state office of architecture and construction, will be luncheon speaker at the North Bay City-County Construction Industry Conference Saturday following morning panel discussions at Donminic's Harbor Restaurant, San Rafael.

AUTO SHOW ENTERTAINER — Tom Burke, young San Francisco organist, will entertain visitors to the "1967 Auto Showoffs" in the Bank of America parking lot, San Rafael on Saturday and Sunday. Most San Rafael automobile dealers are participating.

Record Rice Crop Forecast

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A record rice crop, but declining yields in cotton have been forecast by the California Crop and Livestock Reporting Service.

The service predicted yesterday an 18 per cent increase in the rice crop to a record 18.5 million bags and a yield of 5,200 pounds per acre compared to 4,800 pounds last year.

Record crops also were predicted for grain sorghum and corn.

Other service forecasts: A 9 per cent increase in dry beans; 26 per cent jump in canning tomatoes; a 25 per cent decline in navel oranges; 13 per cent drop in table grapes, and a 2 per cent decline in raisins.

New Middle East Crisis Faces U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The threat of a new Middle East crisis confronted the United Nations today as Israel charged Syria with murders, sabotage and open incitement to war.

Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban called for an emergency meeting of the Security Council. The 15-nation council was expected to meet tomorrow.

Israel went to the council after a long series of incidents along the Syrian-Israeli border which the Israelis blame on a sabotage organization based in Syria. On Saturday a land mine explosion killed four Israeli policemen and injured two.

The Syrian government has disclaimed responsibility for the raids, which are the work of a group of Palestine Arab refugees known as El-Assefa — storm — or El-Fatah — conquest. In retaliation, Israeli planes attacked a Syrian engineering project north of the Sea of Galilee in July.

Israel's chief delegate, Michael S. Comay, submitted the two-point complaint to the council.

It charged:

—Acts of aggression committed by armed groups operating from Syrian territory against the citizens or territory of Israel.

—Threats by Syria against the territorial integrity and political independence of Israel.

The Security Council scheduled a meeting today to take up the Congo's charge that Portugal has allowed Congolese ex-Premier Moise Tshombe to assemble European mercenaries in neighboring Angola for an invasion to overthrow the present Congolese government.

Jordan, Mali, Nigeria and Uganda have drawn up a resolution calling on Portugal to halt such mobilization.

Rafferty Tells How To Solve Slum Problems

SANTA ANA (AP) — Solving the problems of racial unrest requires putting the best schools, teachers, supplies and equipment into slum areas, says State Superintendent of Public Instruction Dr. Max Rafferty.

Education—education for all—Rafferty said, is needed to remove the underlying cause of racial unrest. He was addressing the Orange County Republican Associates last night.

BEST IN SCHOOLS

"This means," he continued, "putting our best schools, not our worst, into the racial slums. It means paying our finest, most inspirational techers, not our newest and rawest, to work where they're needed most.

"It means placing our most modern educational supplies, equipment and material into blackboard jungles which too often pass for schools in the heart of our biggest cities."

Touching on other subjects, Rafferty declared that the way to end the war in Viet Nam is to declare a national emergency, put all possible military force to work and win.

WAYS TO VICTORY

The fighting could be ended promptly, he said, by using the United States' "full, total military might as swiftly and as overwhelmingly as it can be brought to bear upon the source of the aggression."

"If in order to win we need to declare a national emergency," Rafferty said, "and end 'business as usual,' and do a lot of other highly unpleasant things, then so be it."

Woman Slightly Hurt In Span Collision

Ruth L. Gill, 65, of 6 Bryn Mawr Drive, San Rafael, suffered a cut nose in a two-car collision on the Golden Gate Bridge at 8:10 a.m. yeserday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Officers said the southbound Gill car struck the rear of a car driven by Eric A. Anderson, 41, of Petaluma, which had stopped for traffic at mid-span. Mrs. Gill told officers she would take care of her injury, and was not hospitalized.

Ehrlich Joins Suit For Defunct Bank

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Attorney J. W. Ehrlich joined three other directors for the defunct San Francisco National Bank yesterday in a suit against an auditing firm.

The suit asks Federal District Court to hold the firm of Peat, Marwich, Mitchell & Co. financially responsible for the bank's collapse.

Ehrlich asks $1 million in damages, plus any amount he might be forced to pay the Federal Deposit Insurance Corp. which is receiver for the bank.

His suit contends the firm did not reveal that Don C. Silverthorne, bank president, was writing checks from his personal account to the bank's undivided profits account.

In a statement, the firm said that in 1963 the bank refused to permit it to evaluate its loan portfolio and it had stated then that "we were unable to express an over-all opinion on the bank's financial statements..."

The company said its responsibilities to not include acting as insurors or guarantors.

"Further, it would be absurd to extend such responsibilities to situations where the client restricts the scope of the examination and this fact is disclosed in the accountants' report," the company added.

Other directors filing claims were Cecile Whitebone, John A. Steel and Carl O'Connell.

Jury Charges Six In Big Parts Theft

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A federal grand jury charged six men yesterday with being part of a ring that stole $750,000 worth of aircraft engine parts from Alameda Naval Air Station.

A Federal Court in Los Angeles has convicted four Southern Californians in the same case.

Indicted here are C. B. Butler, 47, a truck driver; Tony Vierra, 42, Fremont, a driver; James C. Clemons, 32, Oakland, a warehouseman; and Willie L. Johnson, 56, a warehouse stockman. All were air station employes and all were charged with conspiracy, selling and receiving stolen government property.

Also charged were Robert J. Dixon, Belmont, an airplane parts firm officer, and Milton Ogden, 42, Oakland. Dixon was charged with receiving stolen property and Ogden with conspiracy.

Convicted in Los Angeles and named as co-conspirators in the latest indictments were Harold S. Gray, Donald J. Nastali, Donald C. Boone and James Coverdill.

The board will review the district music program and bidding procedures.

Republican Says LBJ Cancels Poll

WASHINGTON (UPI) —Sen. Thurston B. Morton claims the Johnson administration is having poll trouble abroad as well as at home.

Morton, chairman of the Senate GOP Campaign Committee, told the Senate Tuesday the administration had cancelled plans for a new world opinion poll because "respect for U.S. foreign policy has tumbled in the last two years."

Morton said that the trend toward "open hostility" became so apparent during 1965 that plans for a fourth world survey "to be completed this year and declassified in the 1968 election year were promptly cancelled."

Conflict Issue Being Ignored By Governor

SACRAMENTO (U P I) — Charges of conflict of interest against state Public Works Director John Erreca are a "dead issue," at least as far as Gov. Edmund G. Brown's office is concerned.

James P. Alexander, the governor's cabinet secretary, said yesterday the charges against Erreca by Imperial County Dist. Atty. James Hamilton were "blatantly political."

Alexander's remarks came in response to a second letter to the governor in which Hamilton called a state investigation which absolved Erreca of any conflict of interest a "whitewash."

"When Mr. Hamilton's first letter was received," Alexander said, "We asked for a full report on the matter" from Robert Bradford, administrator of the Transportation Agency. Bradford concluded the charges had "no merit."

"This second letter makes it obvious Mr. Hamilton's attacks are blatantly political," Alexander said.

Hamilton charged Erreca with overlooking loading violations by trucks of Miles & Sons trucking service of merced because of a friendship with the firm's owners.

SDX President Hits Bar Assn.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Raymond L. Spangler, president of Sigma Delta Chi, says a proposal by an American Bar Association study group to limit what police and other law enforcement officials can say about pending cases is a "thrust toward censorship."

Spangler, publisher of the Redwood City (Calif.) Tribune, addressed a meeting of the Washington professional chapter of the journalistic society yesterday.

He said the study "has much with which one can agree, and is constructive in tone." But like other spokesmen for newspaper, television and radio groups he disagreed with its proposals to limit what law enforcement officers can disclose about pending criminal cases.

Inez's Heavy Rains Claim 23 Mexicans

TAMPICO, Mexico (AP) — Mexico's unofficial death toll from Hurricane Inez stood at 23 today as thousands of others sought high ground, rooftops or trees to escape swirling flood waters unleashed by the storm.

Fifteen members of a rescue team drowned yesterday when their boat overturned in the turbulent Tamesi River north of Tampico. Eight others were reported dead in the Gonzalez-Manuel area.

The total unofficial death toll from the hurricane, which roamed the Caribbean for 18 days before hitting mainland Mexico Monday, stood at 251, including five Cubans reported yesterday.

Unofficial damage estimates range as high as $160 million for Mexico, with $24 million in the Tampico area. An extensive area of Tampico is without water. Food is scarce. There is no electricity or telephone service.

Sen. Neuberger Delivers Swan-Song Talk To Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Maurine Neuberger says she's looking forward in retirement to a time to reflect, to read and to think.

Mrs. Neuberger, D-Ore., who is not seeking re-election, delivered what in effect was her swan-song speech to the Women's National Press Club yesterday.

She described the Senate as "the most hectic, frenzied, pressure-ridden spot in the country." Prizefighters go into seclusion before a big bout, she said, while senators face an onslaught of vote influencers.

"Many times I wished I could vote 'maybe'," she added.

Mrs. Neuberger decried that more women are not seeking public office. She noted women outnumber men in the United States by two million, but that only one woman is running for the Senate in addition to Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine.

House Theft Reported

David Bean of 56 Monte Vista Avenue, Mill Valley, reported Tuesday to police the theft of $2.25 in change and a .22 caliber cartridge from his home. The change, taken from a bedroom dresser, included two silver dollars, one from 1888, the other from 1887.

Tiburon Writer Puts Energies To Study Of Religious Field

By BETTY FROST

"I am no theologian, but a concerned layman," said Mrs. James Harmon of Tiburon. Her activities in the "ministry of the laity" have led her to service and study in the religious field.

Her new book, "Meditations On Faith" has been accepted for publication by Vantage Press and will be available next spring. It is a compilation of 25 selected works, with a forward by Mrs. Harmon, who says the volume contains "the expressions of ancient, modern, lay, clerical, famous and infamous people." Twenty-five selected prayers are included.

ABOUT 10 years ago Mrs. Harmon, a free lance writer, was asked to do a series of articles for a San Francisco newspaper on comparative religion. "The interesting thing that the study showed," she said, "was the similarities rather than the differences of the various faiths." This series was later syndicated for national distribution and published under the title "Faith in San Francisco" in 1961.

She is the church editor for a local newspaper and continues to do free lance writing on religious subjects. Two series of Easter articles have been syndicated.

The former Aileen Tallerday was born in Los Angeles, and grew up in San Francisco. She is a graduate of the Katharine Delmar Burke School and attended Simpson College in Iowa.

THE HANDSOME gray-haired woman is married to James Harmon, a manufacturer's representative. They have lived in Rolling Hills, Tiburon, for the past four years. Mr. Harmon's hobby is gardening "and I am grateful for it," says Aileen, who prefers golf. Their pets are two terriers — a Scotty and a Sealyham.

Her talents and energies have been directed to an impressive number of both professional and volunteer activities. Mrs. Harmon was professional director of development and finance for the San Francisco Council of Churches, and field director of the Multiple Sclerosis Society of Northern California.

SHE IS past president of the Junior League of San Francisco, past regional director of the Assn. of Junior Leagues of America, past president of the San Francisco YWCA, the first chairman of the Volunteer Bureau of San Francisco, a member of the executive board of the Community Chest (when it was the Community Chest), past president of the Assistance League of San Mateo and a member of the Peninsula Girl Scout Council. The Tiburon woman is a former board member of the Episcopal Church Women of the Diocese of California, and is a member of St. Stephen's parish, Belvedere, and of St. Stephen's Altar Guild.

THE WRITER hopes "Meditations on Faith" will be helpful and inspirational. "The dedication of laymen is vitally important to the structure and purpose of the church," she says.

SEATED AT her typewriter is Mrs. James Harmon of Tiburon whose new book "Meditations On Faith" will be published by Vantage Press in the spring. In addition to writing, Mrs. Harmon has directed her talents and energies to an impressive number of volunteer activities. (Independent-Journal photo)

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Eat, Eat, Eat, That's All Her Boyfriend Ever Does, She Says

DEAR HELEN:

My boyfriend is forever eating. That's all he thinks about when he takes me on a date. Example: One day I went shopping with him. He suggested a pizza for lunch. I had two small slices and watched him gulp down the rest of the pie.

A few blocks farther on, we passed another pizza place. I could have fainted when he wanted to go in and have another one.

Every time he sees a place to eat, he wants to. I like him, but (thought he's tall and still fairly slim) I'm afraid I'll soon be dating a blimp. How can I get it across there's more to life than pizza pie?—D.I.S.

DEAR DIS:

Call him your "lean tower of pizza" and try to understand there comes a time in most every boy's life when the main thing on his mind is his stomach. Don't worry—you're second on the list.—H.

P.S. But teach him to count calories, just in case.

DEAR HELEN:

Today I was caught shoplifting. I took just enough to show I wasn't afraid, and I was one of the gang. Well, I found out how stupid it is to "prove yourself" that way.

As a minor, I wasn't arrested, but my father was called from his job to take me home. He is a good man. He has always been very proud of his children, but today he was crushed. I can't face him. I feel so low that I would run away, but I know that would only hurt him more. My family trusted me, and I let them down, just to show off.

Helen, please print this letter. I know a lot of kids steal from stores just for kicks. But anyone thinking about it should think what it will do to his family. Believe me, there's no worse feeling than looking into your parents' faces as they ask, "Why?"—HATE MYSELF

DEAR H.M.:

You won't believe me now, but later on you'll know this was the luckiest day of your life. You got caught before you got hooked on the hoods.—H.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm in seventh grade and I'm trying to figure out why we kids have to call adults "Mr.," "Mrs.," and "Miss" when it's their faults the world is in such a mess. They are the ones that ought to respect us since we will be the ones to get them out of the mess they made.—PUZZLED

DEAR MISS PUZZLED:

As our son says when I pan a TV show, "Everybody's a critic!" Ah, so.

You won't appreciate the following, but after my daily dose of "What's the older generation coming to?" letters from teens—well it's a fine antidote.

OPEN LETTER TO JUVENILE ADULT-HATERS: All'a time you kids wring your hands and tear your hair about how we "ancient ones" have loused things up.

Don't just stand there squeezing crocodile tears out of your bangs. Do something! Organize homes for un-hinged mothers, parent guidance clinics, adult-age canteens, correctional shelters for fathers. Don't you know there's no such thing as a bad parent — he's just misguided, warped by a miserable child "hood" (or three or four).

We didn't develop into crazy mixed-up adults just for kicks, you know. It was all because our children didn't understand us. They made us stay home at night when we were old enough to go out and have fun. They bullied, ignored, bossed, criticized . . . nothing we did ever pleased them . . . it was nag, nag, nag, or "What do you know about life, you're just a parent?"

So how could we help going bad? We're the products of our environment. We're a generation of adult delinquents because our kids were so busy saving the world they blamed us for, they didn't give us a chance.

Pity us, don't hate us.—Help!

P.S. Sound familiar, kids? Only the age-group has been changed to get the author in trouble with teen readers.—H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. She will also welcome your own amusing experiences. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Weekend Shopping Picture Brightens

WASHINGTON — (UPI) The food shopping notes for this weekend are somewhat brighter beef and pork supplies are increasing and many vegetables and fruits are either coming into harvest or still in good supply.

Roast beef and steak cuts are reasonably priced this weekend so you might plan to stock up or buy larger amounts. Also, in the pork section, chops, steak and roast cuts are good finds for the economy-minded shopper.

IN MANY AREAS, egg prices are reported dropping. Check for specials. And broiler-fryers and turkeys remain good protein buys.

On the vegetable counter, carrots, celery, onions, peppers and tomatoes are in bountiful supply in most areas of the country.

And look for apples, grapes, pears and bananas when you are out shopping for fruits. All are good weekend buys.

Fish sticks and canned tuna are the national fish plentifuls for weekend shopping.

Butter and eggs are sharply lower in all West Coast wholesale markets this week. Butter dropped 5 cents a pound in the Northwest and 4 cents in California; and eggs declined 2 cents on grade AA large and 1 cent on medium in all markets.

VEAL prices are lower in the Northwest and ready-to-cook poultry prices show an upward trend all along the Coast, with young tom turkeys up 1 to 5 cents in some markets.

Pork prices continued to decline, especially spareribs which are 2 to 6 cents a pound lower and bacon has declined 2 to 8 cents.

Lower beef prices are noted in most markets, with hindquarters down 1 to 2 cents in the northwest and as much as 4 cents in Los Angeles. Rounds, ribs, chucks and briskets are also down slightly in Southern California wholesale markets. Steer beef loins declined 2 to 3 cents in California.

FRUITS and vegetables in best supply on the West Coast include apples, bananas, grapes, pears, carrots, celery, lettuce, onions, potatoes, peppers and tomatoes.

A salute to Fire Prevention Week . . . on Saturday, Oct. 15th, between noon and 1 P.M., The Village will host a display of fire fighting equipment from the Alto-Richardson Bay Fire Dept. This fire dept. is famous through-out The Bay Area for it's superb performance and beautifully maintained equipment.

The "slickest chicks" in town have just got to be those beautiful barbecued birds at BERNSTEIN'S DELICATESSEN. In typically female manner these "chicks" will never tell their delicious beauty secret . . . whatever it may be, the flavor is devine so, don't ask questions . . . just enjoy!

Some perfectly lovely new things at HAPPY HOUSE . . . the tarnish resistant silver pieces by Delli, as an example. Handsome designs from ornate to plain in serving bowls and dishes, cream and sugar sets, salt and peppers, coasters and a wine holder in the circular, hold-the-bottle-upright design. "Dear MUTTS OF MARIN, Good news! We loosened Old Pursestring's hold on the family funds, but now I can't decide just which of your dandy doggie beds I want. Traditional wicker, that jazzy corduroy number, your plastic or metal styles . . . Decisions, decisions . . . Will keep you advised. Love, from Lisa."

Often the word "catering" frightens hostesses . . . thinking this service is reserved for elaborate affairs. This simply isn't true at L'ENTREE. Master Chef Louis Reimers will cater an informal, small cocktail party, larger cocktail-buffets or the grandest of formal dinners. His hors d'oeuvres are always fabulous and his dinners, a gourmet delight. L'ENTREE has an outstanding selection of fine wines also.

The marvelous choice of fine wines at VILLAGE LIQUORS brings to mind many gift-giving possibilities. Wines make a wonderful host or hostess gift and are often appropriate for many Christmas gifts. (By the way, if you plan to mail your "gifts of grape," now is the time to make your selection.)

It has occured to us that gifts from HICKORY FARMS OF OHIO can fill many "problem spaces" on your gift list. For business associates, acquaintances whose needs you don't know, neighbors or the closest friends and relatives (the ones who "have everything") . . . all of these HICKORY FARMS gifts packages (in their remarkable price range) are most appropriate. We should remind you, however, to make your selection in good time . . . especially if your gift is to be mailed out of town. Since everyone eats . . . and since everything from HICKORY FARMS is delicious and beautifully packaged . . . we recommend this old-fashioned country store for most any kind of gift.

Christmas decor galore at ALBERTA OF MARIN. We suggest you plan ahead and visit Alberta now to discuss designs and choose materials for her fabulous creations. Bring your favorite containers with you, if you wish, and have them transformed into beautiful holiday arrangements.

Just what we've come to expect from EXPECTATION MATERNITY SHOP . . . the latest fashions in most-wanted styles. As an example, the pants and top set of Acrilan (acrylic fiber). Three color combinations . . . the top has fringed sleeves and hem . . . the "stovepipe" pants have that all-around stretch waist (no panel or front opening.) Wonderful "waiting wear"!

Charms, charms and more charms at VILLAGE JEWELERS. A fantastic collection of 14 carat gold charms and bracelets in every imaginable shape. Special price this month . . . 20% off on gold charms all with a Christmas motif . . . and many of these little charmers are be-jeweled. (Not too early, by the way, to use the Christmas Lay-away at VILLAGE JEWELERS.)

Interesting new Sunset Book at CAPRICORN BOOKS. This is "The Sea of Cortez" by Ray Cannon . . . beautifully illustrated . . . describes history, travel discoveries, fishing and adventure. Right now this fine new book is specially priced at $9.95, regularly $11.75, and would be an excellent gift choice for both adults and school-age children.

Don't overlook a two-fold luncheon treat . . . daily luncheon specials at KUBLAI KHAN, combined with their gracious dining atmosphere . . . a combination that's hard to beat. Marvelous Polynesian, Chinese and American fare here . . . should you be in doubt over what to order, do consult Mr. Stanley Toy, congenial and helpful restaurateur.

Fine, informal family dining at the HICK'RY PIT. Those terrific barbecued spareribs are always a favorite (and are now available by the pound for "take-out fans") . . . don't forget, though, that the menu here is varied and has items to please everyone. Whether eaten there in a friendly, relaxed atmosphere, or enjoyed at home, HICK'RY PIT food is always very, very good.

Cal Leader Blasts Political Pressure

BERKELEY (UPI) — Chancellor Roger W. Heyns has strongly criticized the controversial position of the University of California in the current gubernatorial campaign.

"Political position and even political fortune become, of all things, attached to news accounts about the university and its students," the chancellor told 2,500 newly arrived students and professors yesterday in his traditional welcoming speech.

"We read speculation, on the one hand, that if our students misbehave, if they are dealt with sternly, it will influence the election the other way," said Heyns.

Such speculation is "unbelievably cynical," said Heyns, and said he hoped his audience found it as "boring" as he did.

The university's greatest assets are the scholarly power of its faculty and the "ability and vitality" of its students, he said. In the current situation, however, "these considerations are being replaced by the language of public relations," he said.

Heyns said he found it "incongruous" that the university is regarded as the best balanced in the country and at the same time is told it has a "poor image."

Blackout Traps Elevator Passengers In Sacramento

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Power went off for up to nine minutes throughout Sacramento and a number of suburbs today when "a big spark" flashed across a substation switch.

The blackout affected downtown Sacramento and the state capitol complex. Many persons were stranded briefly in elevators.

The Sacramento Municipal Utility District said downtown was back on within seven minutes. The last region to be restored, in the northern Sacramento suburban area, had power again at 9:13 a.m.

SMUD estimated the 9:04 a.m. blackout affected about half of its 200,000 customers.

Maintenance men were preparing to replace a switch at the main Elverta substation just northeast of Sacramento, a utility district spokesman said. In disconnecting the switch, "a big spark jumped across the switch which flashed over," he said.

The short activated protective automatic relay equipment which cut out the entire system.

"When something like this happens, all the safety equipment goes into effect," the power district official said.

There was no damage to any equipment and none of the maintenance men, handling the switching process by remote control, was hurt.

Slick Canadian Mail Thieves Get A Million

MONTREAL (UPI) —Thieves slipped into a postal building at Dorval International Airport today and made off with an estimated $1 million in cash, police reported.

Police said the robbery took place while postal workers were taking an early morning lunch break in an adjoining room.

According to investigators, the thieves slipped into the building and hauled off 15 mailbags, all from inbound and outgoing air mail shipments.

Early estimates of the loss were not precise, but Quebec provincial police placed it at "around $1 million." They said the mailbags were believed to contain large sums of cash.

"It will be a while before we're certain of the exact amount," a postal official commented.

Shortly before 10 a.m. Montreal police reported finding a number of empty mailbags —apparently those taken by the thieves — discarded near St. Lawrence Blvd.

Holding Present Bus Bridge Toll Requested

Thomas D. Hardcastle of Novato, Marin representative on the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District board, today urged board members not to raise bridge tolls for Greyhound buses.

Hardcastle spoke at St. Francis Hotel, where he presided at a joint meeting of the finance and commuters' affairs committees of the bridge district.

In February of 1965, the bridge' directors reduced bus tolls from $1 to 13 cents, at the suggestion of Hardcastle. The reduction was made to keep Greyhound from raising bus fares.

The question came up again today because of Greyhound's new application for an increase in bus fares.

"I don't think there has been any action of this board more appreciated by Marin County people, civic leaders, city councils, the board of supervisors and the press than our board's decision to reduce bus tolls from $1 to 13 cents," said Hardcastle.

He asked directors at least to wait until an engineering consultant's report is made to the Marin Transit District because the report "very well might throw new light on the whole bus mass transit proposition."

He said a raise in bus tolls now would be bad timing.

"We have a state senator running for re-election who historically has centered most of his campaigns on Golden Gate Bridge attacks. He is in the last month of his present campaign and I am certain would like nothing better than to arouse the public on this matter."

Also, a raise in bus tolls now would give the state public utilities commission reason to approve Greyhound's request for fare increase, Hardcastle warned.

NEW EYES — Mrs. Baryan Karnes of Kentfield, blind for 23 years, will graduate with her dog, Arda, on Saturday from Guide Dogs for the Blind.

Kentfield Grandmother To Receive Guide Dog

A Kentfield grandmother will be among nine persons graduated with their dogs Saturday from Guide Dogs for the Blind in Los Ranchitos.

Mrs. Maryan Karnes of 23 Bridge Road will be officially presented with her German shepherd dog, Arda, at the graduation exercises beginning at 2:30 p.m. at the school.

Mrs. Karnes is a mother of four and grandmother of nine. She has been blind for 23 years, and has never seen her youngest child.

Blindness came gradually for Mrs. Karnes, from an ailment known as retinis pigmentosa.

When she lost her sight, she devoted herself to volunteer work, doing tape transcribing for her church from four to six hours daily in her home. But recently she decided it was time to "get out on my own, where I can have more contact with people."

"I have always been afraid of traffic," said Mrs. Karnes. "I would never attempt to cross a street by myself. Now, I have complete confidence in Arda."

She added, "It will be wonderful not to be isolated, to know you can get out when you want to."

Mrs. Karnes and her husband, E. E. Harry Karnes, a pressman at a San Francisco print shop, have been Kentfield residents for over 14 years. Two of their three daughters are Marin residents: Mrs. William Booth of Corte Madera and Mrs. Thomas Rogers of San Rafael.

Others to graduate with their dogs Saturday are: William Elsey of Richmond, Otis McFarland of Isleton, Sacramento County; Mrs. Marie Schroeder of Santa Ana; Mrs. Alice Tuffli of San Diego; Mrs. Virginia Sullivan of Winton, Merced County; Mrs. Nadine Moreno of Hayward; Mrs. Sylvia Miller of Stockton, and Craig Roderick of Ogden, Utah.

School Assn. Will Tackle Union Issue

How to crack the tough nut of negotiating with unions will be discussed at a California School Boards Assn. "alert meeting" tomorrow night at Dominic's Harbor Restaurant in San Rafael.

The subject has become important to school board members with growth of the AFL-CIO American Federation of Teachers to rival the California Teachers Assn. as a bargaining representative. Discussing it at the San Rafael meeing will be Larry Wise, Redwood City School District trustee, and Irving Breyer, CSBA legal counsel.

The "alert meeting," to be held in connection with the annual meeting of the Marin County School Boards Assn., will also hear plans for reorganizing the statewide school boards association. Some districts, including two in Marin, have dropped membership because of dissatisfaction over the existing organization.

The Marin County School Boards Assn. will elect officers during its portion of the meeting, which begins with cocktails at 7 p.m. and dinner at 8 p.m.

Terms of direcors Lawrence Goldberg of Kentfield district, Mrs. Fay Jensen of Fairfax, Earl H. Koehler of Dixie, Roy A. Parks of Tomales High, and Leslie S. Stone of Lagunitas expire. The nominating committee has recommended election of Goldberg, Koehler, Parks, Ray H. Barnes of Fairfax, and Curtis P. Kamai of Larkspur.

Trustee representatives of the County Committee on School District Organization also are to elect three to their number. One will replace the late Mrs. Marietta F. Larsen of Lagunitas district. Two other terms are expiring, those of Parks and Dr. Walter Way of Ross district.

Bolinas Harbor Dist. Board Meets Tonight

Directors of the Bolinas Harbor District will hold a hearing on the Bolinas Lagoon master plan prepared by architect Norman T. Gilroy at the Marin County Civic Center at 8 p.m. today.

Maps, pictures and text of the plan are on display in the lobby outside the supervisors' meeting room at the center.

Sidbeck Jury Session Announced

A special session of Marin County Grand Jury has been scheduled for 2 p.m. Wednesday to consider indictment of Robert Dean Sidbeck, 18, for murder, Dist. Atty. Bruce B. Bales said today.

Bales said he will inform the judge at the 1:30 Monday criminal calendar session of Marin Municipal Court — when Sidbeck is scheduled for plea entry —that he is seeking the indictment so further proceedings in the lower court can be continued after the grand jury session.

Also scheduled are arguments on a motion by the defendant for copies of all police reports, statements of witnesses and statements (if any) by Sidbeck.

The youth, a Marine, has been charged with the bludgeon slayings of Mr. and Mrs. Everett F. Zimmerman in their home on San Antonio Road last Aug. 29-30.

If an indictment is returned, the case will go directly to Marin Superior Court. Sidbeck, a former employee of the victims, is being held without bail in county jail.

Sausalito Arts Assn. Names New Officers

William W. Kirsch and Michael E. Bry were re-elected last night to second one-year terms as co-chairmen of the Sausalito Arts Assn.

David Morris was re-elected treasurer. Mary Lindheim was elected recording secretary and Helen Morris was elected corresponding secretary, both new positions.

Park Public Hearing Scheduled Tonight

The Gallinas Village Community Services District will hold a public hearing on plans for development of a one-acre park on Descanso Way at 8 p.m. today at John MacPhail School.

The Independent-Journal erroneously reported yesterday that the hearing would be held last night.

Board Appointees Fail Guidelines

Two of the 12 persons named Oct. 4 to the Marin County Economic Opportunity Council by the board of supervisors do not meet the guidelines set by the federal Office of Economic Opportunity for members, the council learned last night.

Neil R. Brixon, mayor of Larkspur and chairman of the Marin Council of Mayors and Councilmen, and Mrs. Vera L. Schultz, president of the Senior Citizens Coordinating Council, do do not meet specific guidelines set by the OEO, acting council secretary William Collins reported.

Also, he said, the board appointments did not fulfill the requirements that that council include a representative of the county social services department and a person with a Spanish surname.

The council will meet with the supervisors to seek appointment of replacements for Brixon and Mrs. Schultz, Collins said.

Nine of the 30 council members comprise the Marin City Target Area board elected last month. Nine are to be selected from target areas not yet designated. The council meets the second and fourth Wednesdays of each month at 8 p.m. at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church, Marin City.

The council approved tentative budgets of $59,000 to staff the target area board and $70,000 to staff the council. Each is to have seven full-time staff members. County funds would pay 10 per cent of the budget, and the OEO would finance 90 per cent.

Dixie Retains State-Funded Building Plan

Trustees of Dixie School District decided last night that the district should continue in the state loan program for school construction, following the recommendation of Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

The decision means that the district will build four classrooms and two classrooms for the mentally retarded at the Oak View School site in San Rafael Park, under this year's state loan entitlement.

Had the trustees opted for a bigger construction program, it would have been necessary to finance through bonds alone and increase the tax for bond interest and redemption, Willis said.

Trustees heard John Miskimen, a member of the investment firm of Mitchum, Jones and Templeton and a resident of the Dixie district, say that there has been a recent, slight decrease in bond interest rates. He said there was really not a "best time" to sell bonds, but Dixie should probably make its next sale soon after Christmas.

Willis said that $300,000 in authorized bonds must soon be sold to go toward payment of state loans on earlier construction and help with the new construction program.

Dixie School District trustees also:

1. Heard from physical education teacher Gerhardt Lust that recent testing of Dixie pupils showed they were average or better in most areas of physical fitness. The fifth and sixth grade boys were below average in the 50-yard dash and pull-ups.

2. Authorized court action, if necessary, to force Royce Hall of Napa to correct the air conditioning he installed in Miller Creek School. Willis said the circulating motor was not converted to the proper voltage.

3. Accepted the resignation of Vallecito School teacher Wallace Reid. Willis said Reid is quitting to go into business.

4. Hired Mrs. Geraldine S. Maxwell at $1,512.50 a year as part-time music teacher; modified the contract of Mrs. Josephine Leary, making her a resource teacher and adding $1,000 a year to her salary.

5. Appointed Mrs. F. J. Wegner of 1326 Idylberry Drive, Marinwood, and William T. Wegner of 42 Mount Rainier Court, Lucas Valley, to the district finance committee. They are not related.

Water Board Will Conduct Fire Hearing

Water District Board President William A. Marcus of Marin Municipal Water District told conservationists yesterday that district directors would take no action on a program for better fire protection on watershed lands until they hold a public meeting and full discussion with Marin County Fire Chief Louis J. Bloom.

Martin Friedman, conservation chairman of the Marin Clubs, read a statement opposing wide fuel breaks to aid in fire control. He held they would "invite usage by motorcycles, jeeps, etc., whose users constitute a serious fire hazard," and would contribute to erosion.

Mrs. Mary Donnelly, vice president of Marin Conservation League offered the league's assistance in a program to improve fire protection. Letters from the San Francisco Sierra Club chapter and the Tamalpais Conservation Club expressed interest and concern, and also offers of help.

Marcus said the district is seeking maximum fire protection of district lands with a minimum of firebreaks and trails.

The Marin Municipal Water District board also:

1. Approved plans and specifications for perimeter fencing of storage tanks and decided to call for bids.

2. Accepted Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger's recommendation to rent a grader for part-time use rather than pay $24,000 for a new one.

3. Authorized Seeger to purchase two dictators at $295 each and two transcribers at $275 each.

4. Hired C. R. DeWitt to appraise lands surrounding the Santa Venetia tank for possible acquisition by the district.

5. Approved hiring Harold War, automotive mechanic, and approved some payroll step increases for employees.

Next meeting will be Oct. 21 at 1:30 p.m. at the district office on Tamal Vista Boulevard, Corte Madera.

Saving Of Angel Island Urged In Young Talk

"Angel Island must be kept as a recreational and conservation area and not used as a anchorage for several proposed bridges," Assemblyman Pearce Young declared at a rally last night in his behalf at Bown's Hall, Mill Valley.

If the proposed bridges were to go through Angel Island, it would create "a tangle of spider webs over the Bay," Young contended.

He urged, instead, increased ferry services to Angel Island.

Young, Democratic candidate for state Senate, said that if other crossings are needed to Marin, the only method feasible in his estimation would be by underwater tube.

Mrs. James J. Carroll is president of the Sausalito Library Board and Mrs. Kay Berteau is librarian.

New Bahia Vista School Dedicated

San Rafael's new Bahia Vista School was dedicated last evening with more than 400 parents present to witness the ceremony.

Grand officers of the Native Sons and Daughters of the Golden West presented a plaque and flags. Carl J. Brown, president of the San Rafael Board of Education, officially dedicated the new school, which was accepted by principal Robert M. McCurdy.

Becky Raynor, a sixth grade pupil, led the pledge of allegiance in the floodlit grounds. Marvin L. Davis, fifth grade, and Manola Green, fourth grade, accepted the American and California flags.

Rev. Henry Kent led the invocation. Dr. William C. Jordan, acting San Rafael schools superintendent, introduced the speakers.

WHAT? YOUTHS BURN MIDNIGHT OIL AT SCHOOL

With lights flashing, a patrol car swung into action to investigate the serious complaint.

A student studying is unusual? At Redwood High School?

Patrolman Harvey Zion thought it mighty suspicious—for the time was 5 a.m. and the place the half-darkened school cafeteria.

A nightwatchman found two teen-age boys in the building. One was asleep and the other was pouring over text books.

The wide-awake youth told Zion he and his friend had gone to the school because the boy's younger brother made it impossible to study at home.

Zion smiled ruefully, wrote "youthful bad judgment" in his report and notified the parents.

CORE Chapter Won't Release Official Slate

The Marin chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality last night received a suggested slate of new officers from its nominations committee. Officers are to be elected at the Nov. 9 meeting at 8 p.m. at St. Andrew United Presbyterian Church Marin City.

Members agreed not to release the nominees' names to the press, despite the fact that the meeting was open to the public. Additional nominations may be made from the floor Nov. 9.

Sausalito Planners Reject Proposed Site For Library

By PAUL E. PETERZELL

Sausalito Planning Commission last night rejected the site northeast of Vina Del Mar Plaza recommended by the library board for the new city library.

By 5-4 vote, after almost four hours of debate, the commission proposed the library be built on the city parking lot on Bridgeway, north of the Bank of America. This proposal, contrary also to recommendations by the city's planning consultants, will be heard Tuesday by the city council.

Voting for the Bridgeway site were vice chairman Robert L. Nissen and commissioners Walter Thomson, Hendrik J. Keizer, Mrs. Richard Phillips and John A. Sweeny.

A motion by commissioner Norman Murdoch endorsing a plaza site lost, 4-5, with Mrs. Phillips in the minority. Commissioner Roy Starbird, who argued that traffic and parking problems made downtown a poor area for the library, voted against both sites.

Thus, only three commissioners held out for the plaza site—chairman Alan D. Bonapart, Murdoch and George C. Hoffman.

"If we don't move constructively, chances are the council will pick a site out of the air next Tuesday," Murdoch cautioned.

Commissioners favoring the Bridgeway site said the plaza site, near the waterfront, would block views of the bay, and urged that the waterfront be left open for park development.

William E. Spangle Jr., planning consultant, recommended a site partially on "the hole," which was recommended last week by the library board, and partially on city-owned land leased until the year 2002 to Madden and Lewis, Inc.

Herbert Madden, partner in the firm, argued for the Bridgeway site, but said he was "pretty sure" the 10,000 to 15,000 square feet of land in the leased area "will be available to the city." The land is sub-leased to Mac-Marin, operator of the Spinnaker Restaurant.

Arguing for the plaza site, Spangle said: "A library here would be the first step in the development of one of the outstanding waterfront sites in the world. This is an outstanding opportunity and one that should not be missed."

Also urging adoption of the plaza site was Garrett Eckbo, of Eckbo, Dean, Austin and Williams, landscape consultants on the master plan revision. A tentative proposal by the library board's architect, Aaron Green, for a triangular library one store high would infringe only slightly on the bay view, he said.

Green, however, suggested the city avoid buying back part of its lease to Madden and Lewis by endorsing the library board's site recommendation entirely on city-owned land, only slightly south of the site recommended by Spangle. Negotiation for the leased land "may delay the library," he said.

A potential problem in the plaza site, Spangle said, is that Railroad Avenue, a street drawn on the original city maps, runs through the site. It is only a "paper street," however.

Responding to Starbird's statement that both downtown site were poor because library users would have traffic and parking problems, Spangle said, "A library is not a heavy generator of traffic."

"Our parking and traffic problems will be worse in 15 to 20 years when the people in Marincello find out what the weather is like there," Starbird argued. "If you can't get to the library because of traffic, it will be a very expensive mistake."

Dr. Richard Scarborough whose wife is library board chairman said a report last year by Helen Ridgeway, library consultant, recommended the library be downtown where it would be available to the most users.

An alternate downtown location, at the old Purity Store site, was urged by Neil Davis, proprietor of the Bar With No Mame. A motion by commissioner Sweeny to recommend the market site could not get a second, however.

Mrs. Walter Washbourne, civics chairman of the Sausalito Woman's Club, was among those in the audience urging adoption of the plaza site. T. Howell Breece of the Friends of the Library, however, argued against it.

Drinking Drivers Get Sentences

Loring W. Howard, 45, of Santa Rosa, was given 10 days in Marin County Jail yesterday by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court for drunken driving.

Howard was arrested May 21 on Highway 101 by sheriff's officers.

James Dennis Shelley, 19, of 26 Oak Knoll Avenue, San Anselmo, was fined $174 and placed on six months probation for drunken driving. He was arrested by California Highway Patrol on Highway 101 on July 2.

Today is Thursday, Oct. 13, the 286th day of 1966 with 79 to follow.

The moon is in its new phase. The morning stars are Mars and Jupiter. The evening star is Saturn.

Ferdinand VII, king of Spain, was born on this day in 1784.

On this day in history:

In 1775, the Continental Congress ordered construction of a naval fleet, thus originating the U.S. Navy.

In 1792, George Washington laid the cornerstone of the President's House, the first public building to be built in Washington, D.C.

In 1937, Germany promised Great Britain and France that it would not violate Belgian neutrality.

In 1958, U.S. Supreme Court Justice Harold Burton retired after 13 years because of poor health.

A thought for the day—Spanish author Cervantes said: "Can we never have too much of a good thing?"

'Regular Reader' Finds Her Partner The Sneering Kind

"Please explain something," pleads a desperate correspondent who signs herself "Regular Reader."

"I have the kind of partner who says nice things to the opponents and mysterious things to me. The latest came out of the accompanying hand.

"I refused the first trick, took the second spade and led a heart. East won and returned a spade to my ace. Now I ran the hearts.

"West discarded a club without any pain, and then threw a diamond after some thought. Eventually I tried the club finesse, and West took the king of clubs and the spades, defeating the contract.

COMPLIMENT

"My partner complimented West for blanking his king of clubs so quickly. Then my partner sneered in my direction: 'If you can't guess singleton kings don't put yourself in that position.'

"Is there any sure way to guess singleton kings?"

DIFFERENT MEANING

Yes — you peek. But no girl whose first name is "Regular" would want to do a thing like that. Your partner meant something else.

You cannot make the contract if West has both of the missing high cards, and you cannot lose it if East has the king of clubs.

The problem arises only when West has the king of clubs and East has the ace of hearts.

After taking the second trick with the king of spades, lead a diamond to dummy's ace and try the club finesse. West wins, but his hand is then dead. You can later knock out the ace of hearts in comfort.

Working out a difficult hand like this could put wrinkles in a girl's forehead. Ask North if he wants you to look pretty or to make three notrump.

ANSWER: Bid two diamonds. Show your heart support at your next turn. This indicates that your hand is too strong for an immediate raise to two hearts but not good enough for a jump to three hearts.

We Need Mail Service, Not Political Babble

Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien's quick trip into San Francisco Monday to "inspect" what may be the worst mail foulup in Bay Area history turned out to be a farce.

It was a one-hour stopover at San Francisco International Airport, devoted mostly to handshaking and plugging Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other Democratic candidates.

The press conference was a series of interviews with television announcers, largely political in nature.

An Independent-Journal representative and other newsmen, looking for answers to the mail pileup, got almost no information on what, if anything, is being done to straighten out the postal snafu.

The postmaster replied with such platitudes as "Our dedicated, hard-working employees are getting modern tools to carry on the job," and "The department has a slogan, 'Move today's mail today!' "

Since the days of Franklin Delano Roosevelt, the office of postmaster general has been held by a leading politician devoted to advancing the political fortunes of the party in power. This can be tolerated at a time when the Post Office Department is running satisfactorily, and the mail is getting through.

But when mail delivery is in such a sorry mess, we need a postmaster general who will put public service ahead of politics—a public servant who will roll up his sleeves and go to work to unsnarl the mail tieup.

Postmaster General O'Brien's attempt to further the political fortunes of Governor Brown may well backfire because politicking is most inappropriate at a time when "today's mail" is being moved a week from today.

Most of us would much rather have the mail foulup untangled than to have the Brown Administration foisted on us for another four years.

GOP Pros Forecast Bread Crumb Victory In Congress On Nov. 8

LOS ANGELES—"If the Republican party hadn't made a mess of things since the 1964 disaster, we would be winning big this fall. But we're just picking up the crumbs."

This is the view of a number of unhappy GOP professionals I have encountered who are on the moderate side of party policy.

What are they complaining about?

IT IS. But not primarily by the size of the Republican gains but because the shift of as few as 20 House seats will undercut the President's once easy dominance of Congress.

Rep. Richard Bolling of Missouri, one of the top Democrats in Congress, frankly sees "legislative stalemate" for the Great Society if the Republicans gain 20 to 25 seats. "We've never had more than 20 votes to spare in the House," he explains.

BUT WON'T the GOP do considerably better than this?

I think the evidence is that it will. It looks altogether likely that the GOP will make a net gain of 36 to 40 seats in the House, picking up at least a majority of the normally Republican Congressional districts that went Democratic in the LBJ landslide of '64.

What, then, are these disappointed Republican moderates complaining about? Isn't winning 36 to 40 additional House seats a pretty significant, substantial, and encouraging victory?

THE ANSWER IS that this would be a significant and substantial but not very encouraging victory — far below what ought to be attained to put the GOP in a position to have a good chance of winning the Presidency in 1968.

The Republican moderates point out that:

President Johnson's popularity rating, as reflected in the opinion polls, is at an all-time low.

Most of the national issues are hurtful to the Democrats—the anxieties over the Viet Nam war and the widespread feeling that the U.S. should be doing more to win, mounting inflation and rising living costs, and the failure of the Administration to move soon enough to counter them, mounting Federal spending and the prospect of higher taxes.

There are 14 more marginal Democratic seats at stake than there are Republican.

Thus, with nearly everything going for them, these uneasy Republican leaders wonder why the GOP isn't at the point of a really big political boom instead of facing the prospect of winning fewer seats than the average off-year gain of the party out of power.

AT THE PEAK of FDR's unpopularity in 1938 following the defeat of the Court-packing plan, the GOP made a net gain of 75 seats.

At the peak of Truman's unpopularity in 1946, due mostly to inflation and the mess of government price controls, the GOP won back both Houses of Congress.

With a smile which discounts his words, Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen predicts a 75-seat net gain for the Republicans. But evidence indicates that it will not go much more than half that number.

The reason?

THE VIEW OF the could-win-more Republicans is that the GOP has failed to learn the lessons of 1964, is still too negative in applying conservative principles to national problems, that the activist governors have been immobile on the national scene, and that the fight against the 1966 civil rights bill has been a grave mistake.

As a result these Republicans see a great 1966 potential turning out to be a modest and muted victory.

DOG RETRIEVES PRECIOUS CUP

The World Soccer Cup, worth $84,000, was returned to its owners because of the curious sniffing of a black-and-white dog called Pickles.

The trophy, symbolic of the International Soccer Championship, had been stolen a week before from Westminster Exhibition Hall in London.

The dog's lucky owner stood to gain a reward of $16,800 for the find. He was out on a walk when his pet attracted his attention by lingering over an object wrapped in newspapers. It turned out to be the solid gold, nine-pound trophy.

"Pickles saw it first," said the elated dock worker. "He'll have caviar all week."

Seldom do animals become so productive of financial results, but they do afford their owners numerous consolations of a simpler kind.

Affection for a pet, especially if it disposes a person to show more regard for the image of God in his fellow man, can be one way of expressing gratitude for the gift of life.

"I will praise the Lord all my life; I will sing praise to my God while I live."
(Psalm 146:2)

Help me to see Your divine image, O Lord, in everyone I meet.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

U.S. Backbone Questioned

Editor, Independent-Journal:

Recently the I-J printed an article by Scott and Allen, stating that President Johnson has sent Senator Magnuson to Moscow. His mission is "to induce Russia to bring North Viet Nam to the conference table before the November elections here."

"Magnuson is offering the Kremlin the prospects of increased trade and long term credits to the entire Soviet bloc once the Viet Nam conflict is ended."

Mr. Johnson is very generous with our money, loaning it to an enemy and a country who never has paid her debts.

What has happened to the backbone of this country that we will pay tribute and protection money to the neighborhood bully.

Mr. Johnson also said in a recent speech that we will increase trade with the East and build bridges to the communists. Who in his right mind would build a bridge to a hungry bear across a ravine.

Must we remind Mr. Johnson we are fighting two wars with communism; a hot war in Viet Nam and a cold war the world over. They have boasted publicly they will "bury us." Mr. Johnson, giving aid and comfort to an enemy is treason.

The preceding is just one illustration of how the liberal-socialist element has put politics ahead of our national interest and security for the past 30 years.

We conservatives are continually blamed for everything but may I remind you my fellow Americans that we have not had political power for over 30 years. The mess we are in today both home and abroad was spawned and nurtured by the left wing in this country; they should keep their own trash on their doorstep and not dump it on ours.

I hope every voting American will review the past and vote for patriots in this coming election.

The time has come to get rid of the political prostitutes who haunt our halls of government in Washington and Sacramento. We need to get our ship of state back on an even keel; back from left to center.

Editor, Independent-Journal:

On behalf of the men of San Quentin, I would like to express appreciation for the recent picture page featuring San Quentin as one of the "cities" of Marin County. As usual, your able photographer, Jim Kean, did an excellent job.

Likewise, the Reporter's Notebook by Paul Peterzell served to remind your readers that they, too, have an equity in this walled city of men. However, I would like to modify one of his statements. Where Mr. Peterzell states, "almost 90 per cent of the parolees are back in six months" should read, "a high percentage of the parolees who fail, do so within the first few months."

As Mr. Peterzell states, a few of these failures probably do find the security of the institution necessary, but most of them simply were unable to make the transition from prison life to community living. This is a major problem which the department of corrections is approaching through the use of halfway houses, pre-release programs and work furlough.

Electorate Left Helpless

Editor, Independent-Journal:

The time has come to analyze the political implications of the recent airline strike that crippled our economy for a short time.

First of all, everyone will admit that the air transportation industry is very vital to our economy. During the strike the administration made sure that the public knew that they were making sure that everything that had to get to Viet Nam by air was getting there. This was politically important because the Viet Nam war and how it is handled reflects the present administration — that means votes. Thus the national interest, politically, was preserved. The administration did exactly what the electorate expected them to do in respect to national interest.

But what did the administration do for the American electorate during those two inconvenient months. Absolutely nothing.

There was no question that the public wished the president to act, but what did he do? He merely passed the buck to Congress. Congress then put it into a committee where it eventually died. The point I want to make is that each branch of government — the President as well as the Congress did not wish to take a stand, for politically, they felt that a positive stand on their part to end the airline strike would result in a loss of electoral support.

So the question really is, what are elected officials for? Are not they given the powers to take care of situations such as an airline strike? Is it not their job to act in these situations? This is their political obligation as citizens as well as elected officials.

What is the sense of electing public officials to office if their primary interest (once they are elected) is to keep their office by doing nothing that will alienate their electorate. In other words, what the President or the Congress should be doing, they cannot. Their primary concern for some reason has to be their public image; consequently, the public's needs go unattended.

I think that it is about time that our politicians develop a sense of political obligation and responsibility toward the electorate.

CHP's Crittenden Little Trigger Happy In Defending Practices

By EDWIN S. CAPPS

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Bradford M. Crittenden, Governor Brown's $22,500-a-year California Highway Patrol commissioner, is inclined to be a bit trigger-happy when it comes to defending CHP practices or engaging in politics.

Crittenden has indicated at times he does not want to be confused with facts. But the commissioner may have some difficulty in confusing the facts that were turned up last week when the CHP opened bids for the supplying of some 1,400 patrol cars for 1967.

The CHP had purchased cars from the same local dealer for the past seven years. When it was pointed out this might be irregular, Crittenden was quick to deny it.

HOWEVER, AFTER a bit of light was shed on the bidding procedures, eight firms bid for the 1967 cars—the Sacramento dealer was sixth highest out of eight. The actual purchase of the vehicles for 1967 will be some $425 per car less than the last price paid for cars delivered in September. And we had understood that the price of new cars was going up in 1967.

The outcome is that the state stands to save some $600,000 this next year, despite Crittenden's recent claims all was proper, no favoritism was shown and the specifications for the patrol cars were not tailored to fit a single bidder and make of car.

IT IS REMINISCENT of a situation several years ago in which the CHP was accused by a union of improper enforcement activities. The union was picketing the Aerojet plant east of here and its members were driving their cars on the highway, tying up traffic.

The sympathy perhaps was with Crittenden for using his officers to cite hundreds of the union pickets but he called a meeting with union officials to discuss the complaint. News reporters were barred.

After the meeting was completed, Crittenden distributed a statement that he had concluded his officers acted properly and there was no substance to the complaint. The statement, however, had been prepared before the meeting with the union officials.

Some six weeks ago, Crittenden got into the campaign for Brown by charging that Ronald Reagan was confused over crime statistics which Reagan claimed showed the crime rate in California was increasing.

THE PATROL CAR bidding procedure was brought to light in mid-September by Lou Cannon, San Jose Mercury reporter. It showed the same Sacramento Dodge dealer had sold all the cars to the CHP for the past seven years.

Manning J. Post, member of the state's "Little Hoover" Commission, suggested the procedure should be reviewed. Other reports were that the CHP had set specifications requiring some 30 odds and ends on the vehicle, for safety purposes, which most manufacturers were not in a position to provide.

Crittenden issued a self-serving statement a couple of weeks ago, less than a week before the new bids for 1967 models were opened, praising his efforts in developing safe vehicles for the CHP by the adoption of the numerous specifications.

CRITTENDEN ALSO said at the time it was not true the CHP had changed its specifications because of the "Little Hoover" Commission. He admitted certain language changes were made in the specs but said they did not change the basic requirements. However, the commission secretary said 19 changes were made.

Whether there were changes in actual specifications or just in the language, it would seem the taxpayers are to benefit at the rate of $600,000 a year without, it would appear, much thanks to Crittenden.

THE CYNIC'S CORNER By Interlandi

"That's what I mean. We seem to have a no-win policy toward war-"

20 YEARS AGO

Fairfax brought down the curtain on the wartime Civilian Defense program, relieving the CD coordinator of his duties and accepting as a gift from the fire wardens surplus government property purchased from the War Assets Administration.

Downtown San Rafael streets were decorated with colorful banners for a four-day Fiesta Days celebration.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

A GENTLEMAN with very military bearing drove his car into a parking lot in Birmingham and looked about for the attendant. "Here I am, major," called a lad from the rear of the lot and ran up on the double. "I'm not a major," said the driver, descending from his car, "and I don't like to be called one." "Beg your pardon, colonel, no offense intended," the boy assured him, "I'm not a colonel, either," said the driver. "In fact, I have no title at all. I don't like titles. Now, how much will it cost me to park here for three hours?"

"There'll be no charge at all, sir," grinned the attendant. "You're the first big shot that ever drove into this lot who was just nobody at all—and it's a pleasure to serve you."

A VERY FAT newcomer to San Francisco grumbled, "No other city ever bothered me—but these damnable hills are wearing me down." A native Chamber of Commerce booster cheered him with, "Ah, but you forget one wonderful thing about San Francisco, my friend. When you get weary you always can lean against it!"

PETER LIND Hayes has collected a few song titles that music lovers may not be able to recall: "When I Was a Blackjack Dealer and You Were 21"; "I've Grown Accustomed to Your Face—But I Can't Stand the Rest of You"; "I'm So Miserable Without You, It's Just Like Having You Around"; "I Just Can't Forget What's-Her-Name"; and "Where Are My Glasses, or I Wonder Who's Kissing Her Now."

10 YEARS AGO

Doug Boaz, former assistant manager of the Seattle Humane Society, took over as manager of the Marin County Humane Society.

It was roundup time in San Rafael Meadows as makeshift cowboys riding bicycles and motor scooters tried to head off a herd of about 50 cows that tromped through streets and gardens.

Strawberry Recreation District directors approved a proposal to annex the whole Tiburon Peninsula, including the City of Belvedere.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

Clark To Retire To Aid His Son

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and PAUL SCOTT

WASHINGTON — The next U.S. attorney general will be Ramsey Clark, 39-year-old son of Supreme Court Justice Tom Clark.

The latter will make that possible by retiring. He is eligible to do that, being 67 and on the bench 16 years. Federal judges can retire with full pay after 65 and 15 years service.

Despite recurring reports that others are under consideration, young Clark, now acting attorney general, will get the cabinet job. To insiders that is clearly foreshadowed by a number of significant straws in the wind, as follows:

LIKE HIS FATHER, the younger Clark is a Texan, is highly regarded both personally and as an attorney by the President. Ramsey Clark is a sincere Great Society partisan, and is close to the young "brains" of the administration. He has worked with them on legal and other matters.

Justice Clark has told intimates he would not hesitate to give up his own career to further his son.

"If my quitting the court would open the way for Ramsey to become attorney general," Clark told an old friend, "I would do it in a minute and without regrets. He is entitled to his chance. I have had mine."

Finally, Clark's health has been indifferent the past year.

THIS LITTLE known fact was noted by Rep. John Rooney, D-N.Y., chairman of a House appropriations subcommittee, during its hearings on the Supreme Court's budget. The tribunal asked for $2,626,000 — an increase of $45,000 for additional stenographic help.

At the conclusion of the session Rooney made this revealing comment:

"Thank you, Mr. Justice Clark, and we hope your illness disappears with dispatch. It was nice of you to come in behalf of the court. Since you had that attack of vertigo, you should have stayed at home."

LYNDA BIRD JOHNSON will marry actor George Hamilton. Their engagement will be announced later this year, with the wedding next spring. Bronson LaFollette, young son of the late Sen. Robert La Follette, will be charged in his hot re-election battle for Wisconsin attorney general, with taking federal pay at the same time he was drawing a salary from the state.

Young LaFollette received more than $900 from the State Department last year to deliver a series of lectures in the Far East. At the same time he continued to draw his pay as state attorney general.

LA FOLLETTE is being opposed by Louis Ceci, young Milwaukee former member of the State Assembly. Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., whose attacks on administration foreign policies are increasingly frequent and ascerbic, is dropping hints he may not run for a fifth term in 1968.

Fulbright is complaining about being overwhelmed with despair and frustration, particularly regarding the course of events in Southeast Asia.

If anything happens to Carl Hayden, D-Ariz., 89 who has been ailing for months, Barry Goldwater is set and waiting to run for the seat.

I-J REPORTER'S NOTEBOOK

By CAROL MARSH

Happiness Called Marin Living Among The Sky And Wildlife

AS A MARINITE of precisely six months standing, having acquired some knowledge of the county (Mill Valley isn't very close to Tomales Bay) while retaining my newcomer's point of view, I thought I might share some of my in-depth observations on Marin.

Marin does not even vaguely remind me of any other place I've lived. After six months in most of the other places (Southern California, Indiana) I've been more than ready to move on. Here I'm still writing glowing letters to my friends about the county, and to my surprise, it is the county I write about, rather than the city across the bay.

In Kern and Howard counties in Indiana, or in San Diego, Los Angeles, Riverside or Imperial counties in Southern California, I was rarely if at all aware of living in a county, much less what county. I don't think anyone else there thought very much about it, either.

But as soon as I got a job in San Rafael, even before I moved, my new home was "Marin County." And I got "Marin" right, even though I thought San Rafael was San Rafayel.

MOST OTHER Marinites—if they don't live in Sausalito—also seem to think of themselves as living in Marin rather than any of its cities. Perhaps it's because Marin as a whole is considerably more to be proud of than any part of Marin.

The first thing a newcomer from Southern California notices is that you can see Marin, and from Marin you can see the sky. Residents of Los Angeles have forgotten all about the sky—or, if they think of it at all, they think of it with nostalgia. It's not just that there's too much smog in the air to see across the street, it's that you can't even see the smog for the watering of your eyes.

In Los Angeles, there isn't anything worth seeing, even if you could. Except when Beverly Hills is on fire. It makes the smog worse, but I've watched at least two fantastic fires in Beverly Hills from as far away as San Fernando Valley.

WHICH BRINGS up another point about Marin—it's green. Green is almost a new color to a Southern Californian. Southern Indiana resembles Marin in this, but in nothing else.

And it's all on an angle. I suppose there are flat places in Marin, but they are definitely not played up. I don't know why I think it's so great to be on a slope, but I do. Maybe I acquired the taste in flat Northern Indiana where all you can see in any direction is nothing.

Live wild deer everywhere delighted me, at first, and still delights me when someone else is driving. There are also skunks, I notice. Do we have mountain lions in Marin?

ONE NIGHT last week from my cabin in Forest Knolls, I heard what sounded, from inside, like a cat mewing plaintively. Thinking it might be the Siamese I misplaced three or four months ago, I went outside, and from outside it didn't sound like anything I had ever heard before. I considered whether it could be a wounded deer, since I don't know what noise, if any, a deer makes, but I decided against investigating as it might not be a wounded deer.

Anyway, the point of that digression is that much of Marin, unlike almost any place in Southern California, is still suited to wild life.

Of course, there's wild life and wild life; Southern California is full of the kind of wild life recently run out of Tiburon.

MORRIE RYSKIND

Al Smith, Not FDR, Opened Round On Probation Repeal

MAYBE MY MEMORY is failing me, and I should have kept a diary. Almost daily I read articles or hear panel discussions of events I lived through — but described at variance with my own recollection. That's especially true of campaign years — and I note this is one.

The other night, on one of those radio opinion shows, a lady phoned in to warn of the dangers of a Republican victory in California, pointing with pride to Democratic achievements from FDR on. It was Roosevelt, she said, who fought vigorously and almost singlehandedly for the repeal of Prohibition, thus wiping out the bootlegging machines.

Now, I was for repeal, but all these years I've been thinking it was Al Smith who led the fight. Well, live and learn.

Still, I do recall — and vividly — that Al brought the issue up at the 1932 Democratic convention, and that the delegates though favorable, wanted to hear how FDR stood. So Jim Farley was asked to phone the nominee and report.

FARLEY CAME back an announced the candidate was willing to run on a plank calling for repeal or one opposing it, whichever the convention decided.

Now that is hardly "fighting vigorously and almost singlehandedly." It's more like going along with the consensus, as a later President has. So, no matter what revised histories may say, Al gets the credit in my book.

But it isn't unusual for fans to exaggerate their hero's actual achievements, and no one can fault FDR for his admirer's overstatement.

But I remember one time when Roosevelt himself reached for more than he was entitled to.

IT HAPPENED my wife and I were ardent admirers of Fiorello LaGuardia and served as volunteer workers in two of his successful campaigns.

On this occasion — I cannot place the year exactly — LaGuardia was opposed by a highly respected judge who headed the Tammany ticket. With the obvious importance of New York City in mind, the President (who had hand-picked the candidate) felt that with an excellent standard-bearer, backed by his own prestige, he could turn the city back to Democratic rule.

But, though FDR was at the height of his popularity, the signs all indicated that New York was going to stay with the Little Flower.

I dropped in to see the mayor on the Saturday before election to show him some last minute poll sampling done in normally heavy Tammany districts. They were highly favorable, as were the polls the papers ran, and we discussed them for a while.

"But here," said the mayor, grinning, "is the most encouraging poll yet." And he reached into his pocket and handed me a telegram.

IT READ something like this: "Dear Fiorello: You know how much I've always admired you and your stand for good government, and I know New York will do the right thing by you next Tuesday. Best regards." And it was signed "Franklin D. Roosevelt."

"Is this on the level?" I asked incredulously.

"Oh, yes," said LaGuardia, "I checked."

"I don't get it," I said. "Everybody knows FDR picked the Democratic candidate and, though officially neutral, has been pulling all sorts of strings for him. Jim Farley raised money and speakers for him — it just doesn't make sense!"

"OH, BUT IT does," said the Little Flower. "Roosevelt thinks I'm in and has timed this telegram perfectly. He figures I'll give it to the papers tomorrow in time to make the Monday morning headlines. Then, if I win on Tuesday, he'll take the credit for my victory."

"So?" I asked.

"So," said LaGuardia, putting the wire back in his pocket, "this stays right here and nobody is going to see it till after the election. If the President wants credit, let him earn it the hard way."

Merchants Open House Planned

Participating merchants will display Christmas decorations.

Niels Schultz Jr., Greenbrae developer, was given the radio KABL "citizen of the day" award.

The chamber postponed an art show planned for this month to next spring.

Directors Order New Street Light

Directors of the Terra Linda Community Services District Tuesday night, after a tour, ordered a street light at Pine Lane and Las Raposas Road and upgrading of lighting at Las Raposas and Las Collindas roads.

The directors also agreed to seek the annexation of the 4.89-acre portion of Terra Linda Terrace not now in the district. The subdivision, proposed at the south of the district, is mostly within its boundaries.

Directors heard Asst. County Administrator John F. Barrows explain the proposed consolidation of fire protection districts and the function of the city-county services committee.

Golf Clubs Stolen

A golf bag containing a set of golf clubs were taken from a car owned by Larry J. Giambastiani of Fairfax Tuesday, while his car was parked in front of 88 Vivian Way, San Rafael. Police reported that access to the car was gained by smashing the right side wing window.

The ranch in the Ruby Valley was purchased by James Stonier, a former county assessor from San Jose, Calif., for an undisclosed price.

McRea, 60, bought the ranch in 1962.

"I'm not leaving this part of the country," McRea told friends. "I want a smaller place up here so I can relax more and work less."

The transaction included public land grazing permits for 900 head of cattle, 1700 tons of hay, three dwellings, a bunkhouse, barns, corrals, some cows, 25 bulls and 13 saddle horses.

Congress Passes Defense Package

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress has passed a $58-billion defense appropriation bill containing authority for the President to call up nearly 2 million reservists without declaring a national emergency.

Johnson had not sought the callup authority — a power he lacks unless he declares a state of national emergency — which will extend to June 30. Johnson is not expected to use it under present conditions.

After the House approved it Tuesday by a 305-42 vote, the Senate sent the defense measure to President Johnson by a voice vote.

San Rafael Choice Over Terra Linda

San Rafael is favored to beat Terra Linda tomorrow night in one of the crucial Marin Athletic League football games of the season.

The Bulldogs and Trojans will be carrying undefeated league records into the game which will get underway at 8 o'clock on the San Rafael High School field.

Each has won games over Marin Catholic and Redwood and the sum total is 76-0. Broken down, Terra Linda beat Marin Catholic 13-0 and Redwood 13-0, and San Rafael has blanked Redwood 18-0 and Marin Catholic 32-0.

Five of the I-J prognosticators have picked San Rafael to win and one (the same one who picked the 49ers over Green Bay) has picked Terra Linda.

In other Marin Athletic League games, Tamalpais is the unanimous pick over Novato in their game Saturday, 2 p.m. at Novato, and Redwood, winless on the season, is the unanimous pick over Marin Catholic, that game Saturday night, 8 o'clock in Kentfield.

DRAKE UNDERDOG

Riordan is heavily favored to beat Drake in a non-league scrap Saturday, 2 p.m., in Kentfield. College of Marin is the choice of the scribes over San Francisco State J.V. in tomorrow night's game in Kentfield, 8 o'clock.

(Complete individual selections of these, plus other games, will be in tomorrow's I-J.)

Also up for grabs at tomorrow night's San Rafael - Terra Linda game will be the Victory Bell that annually goes to the winner of the game between the two San Rafael High School District schools.

Terra Linda has had the trophy on its mantle for the last two years, beating San Rafael 6-0 last year and 19-12 in 1964. The previous year San Rafael won the game 26-7 and went on to the co-championship of the league. The winner of the game this year may also go on to the championship.

KING-SIZED BAND-AID

Lee MacPhail New Yank Gen. Manager

NEW YORK (AP) — Lee MacPhail, former president and general manager of the Baltimore Orioles and more recently administrative assistant to Baseball Commissioner William D. Eckert, was named executive vice president and general manager of the New York Yankees for the next three years today.

$65,000 SALARY

He will replace Dan Topping Jr., the acting general manager since last May, on Dec. 3. MacPhail will receive about $65,000 annually in his new position. His salary with the Commissioner's office was estimated at $40,000. He joined Eckert's staff last November.

The 49-year-old son of Larry MacPhail, one-time co-owner of the Yankees, was the farm director of the Yanks before joining the Orioles in November of 1958. He is credited with having put together the team that won the 1966 American League pennant and the recent World Series in a four game sweep over Los Angeles.

The Yankees finished in last place in the American League for the first time since 1912 the past season. They won 70 games, lost 89 and wound up 26½ games behind the Orioles.

Their performance climaxed a decline that began in 1965 when they placed sixth. They had won 22 pennants in the previous 29 years.

MacPhail's selection completes a club shakeup. Michael Burke, an executive of the Columbia Broadcasting System, replaced Dan Topping Sr., as president last month when the latter sold his 10 per cent interest to CBS, enabling the network to assume sole ownership.

ACTING BOSS

Topping Jr. became acting general manager when Ralph Houk replaced Johnny Keane as field manager in May. Houk had been general manager.

No successor to MacPhail was named immediately by Eckert. None is expected to be chosen for about three months because of the commissioner's trip to Japan with the Dodgers.

Pro Football Merger Negotiations Collapse

Prospects Hurt By Stalemate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Efforts to negotiate an antitrust exemption for a combined National and American Football League collapsed today, dimming prospects that the merger will be completed.

The failure of counsel for the leagues and the House Antitrust Subcommittee to agree on a proposed exemption law made it unlikely a bill can be passed before Congress adjourns.

The impasse was disclosed at a third session of the subcommittee with Commissioner Pete Rozelle. Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., said alternative proposals suggested by the lawyers had all been rejected by the other side.

That left it up to Celler to put a bill through the subcommittee and he took a determined stand against hasty action. That appeared to kill hopes for passage of a bill before next week's expected adjournment.

WON'T BUY

"I'm not going to buy this package without opening it," Celler told Rozelle. "I want to unwrap it and see what we're buying."

At a hearing Tuesday, Celler indicated he would go along with an exemption limited strictly to the consolidation of the two leagues. He asked subcommittee counsel Kenneth R. Harkins to work with the league's lawyer, Hamilton Carothers, on language to accomplish it.

Today, Carothers said Harkins' proposal was so limited as to be meaningless, and Harkins said the league's proposal would amount to a "blank check" exemption from antitrust laws.

Celler found himself under heavy pressure for speed from subcommittee members most of whom have either NFL or AFL clubs in their districts.

But the 78-year-old chairman, who has served 44 years in the House, dug in his heels and refused to be hurried.

WANTS FACTS

"Most members are not familiar with all the details of the agreement we're being asked to exempt," he said. "There are lots of intricacies and nuances and I want to plumb the depths. I want to know the facts."

The hearing was forced to a sudden end by an early meeting of the House. Under House rules, committees cannot meet when the House is in session.

Celler set no date for continuing the hearings but asked Rozelle to hold himself in readiness for further questioning. Also waiting to testify are representatives of the Justice Department and the Federal Trade Commission.

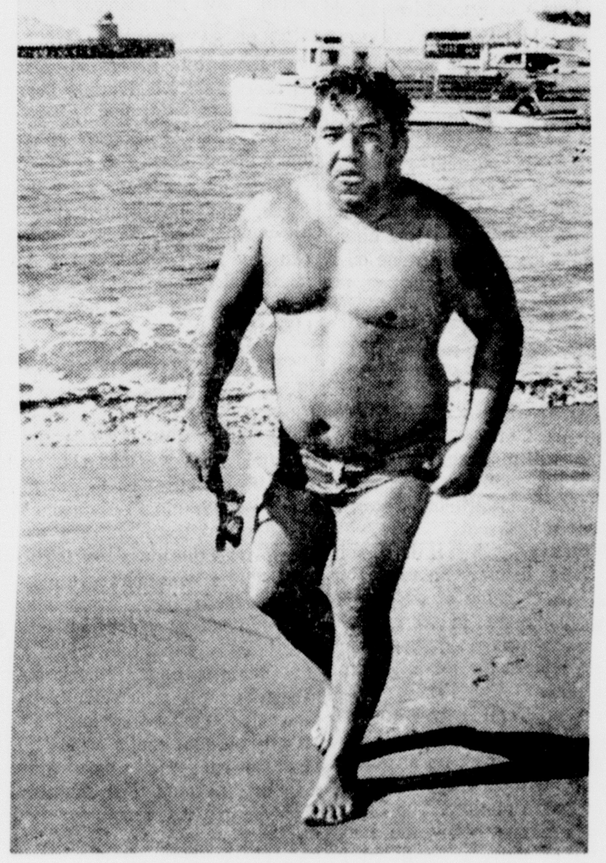

Celler also has said he intends to hear from the television networks, the NFL and AFL players, and college and high school football interests.

Such hearings would go well beyond the expected length of the session, leaving the leagues without the statutory approval Rozelle has said is mandatory for completion of the merger.

Although under the plan announced last June the merger is not to be fully implemented until 1970, there was to be a playoff game between the two league champions next Jan. 7.

POSTPONES BIG SWIM

Isaac "Ike" Papke, shown after a practice session at San Francisco yesterday, was forced to postpone his attempt to become the first person to swim from the Farallon Islands to Stinson Beach last night. Winds that whipped up large waves discouraged the 240-pound veteran distance swimmer. He plans to try again next week, he said today. (UPI Telephoto)

ALONG MARIN'S SPORTS TRAIL

By JIM GILMARTIN
I-J Sports Editor

About Rolling Stones, Prayers, An All-Star And An Early Bird

BOULDER-DASH—Don Stone, the Drake High quarterback who was selected the I-J's Prep of the Week, has good speed and is dangerous on end sweeps, but if you think for a minute that I'm going to say a rolling stone gathers no moss you're absolutely right.

GREAT SCOTT—Novato High football coach Al Scott, when asked what he was going to do in preparation for the invasion of the fine Tamalpais Indians Saturday, groaned, "Pray!" Meaning, of course, the Hornets will bridge those crosses when they come to them.

ALL-STAR—With four games in the books, it's time to start looking for Marin County's outstanding football player as a possible All-Northern California nominee.

The early returns seem to be running in favor of Mike Biber, a 6 foot 2 inch, 185 pound Tamalpais senior end who threatens to cover more yardage this season than the Marin County Real Estate Board.

Statistically, M. Biber in four games has caught 20 passes for 512 yards and 8 touchdowns, including one 71-yard bomb.

Interesting to note is that only one of the Mill Valley youngster's TD passes was caught in the end zone, meaning he had considerable running to do on the other seven.

A good Ukiah team got the "word" on Biber prior to last week's game and double-teamed him. He caught 5 passes for 172 yards and two TD's.

"This season," said Coach Willie Hector, a former professional lineman, "three officials have told me Mike has the best moves of any high school boys they've seen. He has such good hands he hasn't dropped a pass all year. He's the best high school end I've seen—a lot better than some college ends."

Mike Biber, a star in a county loaded with good pass receivers, has a 2.9 grade average, which is close to a "B." Smart boy. He's going places.

FAST STARTER—Milt Morley is one golfer who firmly believes that the early birdie gets the worm.

In his scheduled 36-hole championship match against Jess "Red" Long at Marin Country Club last Sunday, Uncle Miltie birdied the first two holes to Long's pars, went three up on the third hole when Jess bogeyed and was four up by the fifth hole. Thus, in the 32 holes played, Morley established the bulk of his victorious 5 and 4 before most of you had eaten your breakfast.

In fairness to the loser, it should be noted that Long was recuperating from a severe cold and was feeling, though not scoring, below par.

Sil DeMaestri, who followed the title match, said the difference was on the greens: Milt was dropping his putts while Jess was barely missing.

MAYBE IT'S our invigorating air, or the scenery, or our good food and water. Anyway, two pro golfers who visited Marin County in recent weeks stand first and second after yesterday's opening round of the Sahara Invitational Tournament.

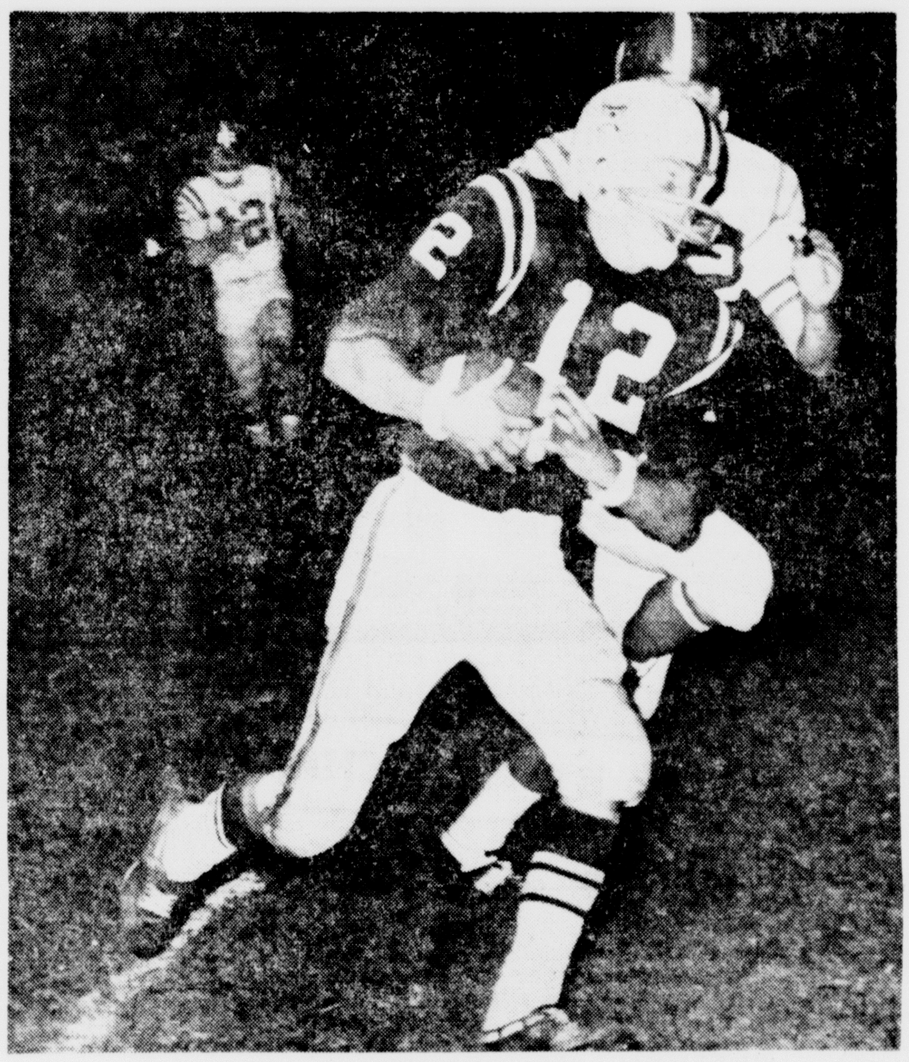

They are Ray Floyd and Mike Souchak who shot 68 and 69 respectively yesterday. Floyd, while vacationing here, set a Peacock Gap course record of nine-under-par 62 on Sept. 20.

Just last week Souchak, who recently signed a contract to represent National Golf Course Inc., visited and played National's San Geronimo course.

Drake Runners Top Marin Catholics

Drake High School's varsity cross country team swept the first three places yesterday, defeating the Marin Catholic runners 19-37 on the Drake two-mile course.

HEY ROGER, COME BACK

San Rafael High School end Roger Widmer tries to elude a Marin Catholic defender after catching a pass during their Marin Athletic League game. It was all for nothing, however, as the play was called back because of a penalty. The Bulldogs of San Rafael have a stiff test tomorrow night when they take on the Terra Linda Trojans on the San Rafael field, 8 o'clock.

CEPEDA HONORED FOR YEAR'S TOP COMEBACK

By FRED DOWN

NEW YORK (UPI) —When a hitter improves from one year to the next by 19 homers, 68 runs batted in and .125 percentage points he shapes up pretty well as the comeback player of the year.

And that's exactly what Orlando Cepeda of the St. Louis Cardinals was voted today—National League comeback player of 1966 — by the United Press International's baseball experts.

The 29-year-old native of Ponce, P.R., was named by nine of the 24 writers who participated in UPI's annual post-season survey. Relief pitcher Phil Regan of the Los Angeles Dodgers had six votes and Matty Alou of the Pittsburgh Pirates had four.

Gaylord Perry and Lindy McDaniel of the San Francisco Giants, Felipe Alou of the Atlanta Braves and Don Drysdale of the Dodgers were the other players who got one vote each. Manager Billy Hitchcock of the Braves also received a vote.

After averaging 31 homers and 109 runs batted in with an average consistently over .300 for seven years, Cepeda suffered a severe knee ailment in 1965 and finished the year with a .176 average, one homer and five runs batted in. He was hitting only .265 when the Giants traded him on May 8 to the Cardinals for pitcher Ray Sadecki.

With the Cardinals, Cepeda shook off both his physical ailment and the psychological problem of feeling "unwanted" with the Giants. He quickly became regarded by St. Louis fans as the Cardinals' most dangerous right-handed hitter since Joe Medwick in the 1930s and finished the season with 20 homers, 73 runs batted in and a .301 average.

INTRIGUING, WINDY TOURNEY

Floyd Leads Sahara Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP) —The $100,000 Sahara Invitational Golf Tournament swung into the second round today with several intriguing possibilities.

Could the more celebrated Bill Casper, Jack Nicklaus or Arnold Palmer break par in quest of the $20,000 first prize?

Can Casper go on to win the event twice in a row?

Would the gusty desert winds continue?

Would another dark horse hog the scene?

So it was as play resumed over the par-36-35—71 Paradise Valley Country Club course and its 7,069 yards of golfing real estate.

The weatherman predicted winds of 25-30 miles per hour all day. The big breeze blew only the last part of the first round yesterday.

Floyd, an early starter yesterday, had no complaints. He had six birdies and three bogies in his first competition since the Cleveland Open in August.

"I just needed to get away from golf," said the man from Fayetteville, N.C. "I had just lost interest after Cleveland and needed a rest. I feel like playing now."

National Open champion Casper had no argument with the weather in the first round but conceded he did not putt well as he shot a 37-36—73. He had only three one-putt greens and missed two putts of seven and six feet for successive bogies on the eighth and ninth holes hardly helped matters.

Nicklaus, the two-in-a-row Masters winner, was not hampered by the wind, he said, and his round of 36-35—71 included one bogey and one birdie.

The bogey came on the fourth hole, when his 15-foot putt curled in and out of the cup, and the birdie came on seven with a 20-footer.

Beginning the second round, Mike Souchak and George Archer were one stroke behind Floyd, and tied at 70, two off the pace, were Ken Still, Dave Hill, Jacky Cupit, Bert Yancey and Roger Ginsberg.

Spencer-Jones Bout Is Rated A Tossup

SAN FRANCISCO—Two men ranked among the best heavyweight fighters in the world collide at the Cow Palace tomorrow night in the sweet name of charity and to determine which should be next in line for a shot at champion Cassius Clay.

Thad Spencer of San Francisco, ranked No. 2 among challengers for Clay's crown, and Doug Jones of New York, the man who gave the titlist his toughest fight, are the principals in the 10-round argument.

The Synanon Foundation, which is credited with a tremendous job in curing drug addicts in California and New York, is to receive a portion of the receipts.

The fight is rated strictly a tossup. For the most part so-called fight experts say Lady Luck will determine the winner. Only former lightweight champion Lew Jenkins, now a resident of Antioch, has publicly proclaimed his choice.

Jenkins favors Spencer because he figures the local lad can do everything right. He concedes him a big chance against Clay. Yet, it was against Clay that Jones made one of his strongest showings.

When Jones and Clay met in New York March 13, 1963, Clay was awarded a split, hotly-disputed 10-round decision. Many felt Jones was the better man that night and still believe so, particularly in view of the fact Clay since has refused to give Jones a chance to prove otherwise.

Mickey Duff, English boxing promoter, is interested in obtaining Spencer's services for a title match with Clay in January should he get over Jones. Spencer is popular in England because of his victories there over Jack Bodell and Brian London earlier this year.

Other matches: Nate Collins vs. Dave Reed, 10 rounds, middleweights; Zeke Perez vs Bobby Murray, 10 rounds, lightweights; Chuck Simonini vs. Alfred Holguin, 6 rounds, lightweights.

Baltimore's Not Even A Nice Place To Visit

Okay, Baltimore, I wanted to let you off the hook. I'm tired of city-knocking. And from what I could see, this fly-blown old strumpet of a city had troubles enough.

But the guys held a meeting and threatened to jerk my expense account unless I took on Baltimore. The ball players insisted on it. Tommy Davis almost cried as he described his room.

"LISTEN!" A Cincinnati man hissed as he grabbed me by the lapels. "If you let them get away with this city, you owe Cincinnati and Green Bay an a b j e c t apology. Compared to Baltimore, Cincinnati is the island of Maui!"

"For heavens sake, man" irritably burst the man from St. Louis. "You cannot be arch and leave Baltimore just s i t t i n g there?! You can call Augusta 'Downtown Tobacco Road!' and ignore God's Little Acre here?! H a v e you no sense of f a i r play?!"

"WELL," I ADMITTED, sighing, acting as surrogate for the baseball writers and the baseball players marooned on this American desert island, "I could say it was a quaint blend of the old and the older. I could say, 'It was so old the police carried muskets,' or that it was the only place in America where they still block three-cornered hats. I could say it was 'as modern as a peruke.' "

HE NODDED e a g e r l y, "A peruke!" he said. "That's more like it!" "No, no," I told him. "You misunderstand. A peruke isn't morning sickness. It's a periwig — what they wear on the bench in England or in old Errol Flynn movies."

"THE FOOD!" he shouted. "What about the f o o d?" I thought a minute. "Well, you can say I ordered steak at one restaurant and one guy said, 'Tell me, do they bring the meat into this town on the hoof or in trucks?' and I told him I thought they brought mine on a leash. I put it in a little doggie bag but my dog wouldn't eat it. I think he recognized it. I had one piece of meat called a 'plank steak' that was so well named I told them to take it back and give it to a termite. As the old joke goes, I not only couldn't cut it, I couldn't even bend it. The roast beef was so tough and raw, I told him to take back the knife and fork, and bring me a cape and sword."

THE WRITERS all cheered. "Now your getting there! The real feel of it! What about the hotel?"

"Well, I could say it was the 'Lord Help Us' Hotel," I allowed grudgingly. "That the elevators ran as regularly as trains to Moscow. One guy asked what time the next elevator was, and his companion put it, 'Just to the nearest month, that it.'

"I COULD SAY the rooms were so small, flies had to walk. In fact, the only things the Dodgers hit all Series were the walls of their rooms rolling over in bed. Tommy Davis' bathroom was so small he had to wash his hands in shifts. One bathroom covered three rooms. A guy from Dayton complained he had a room with no closet, and a guy from C h i c a g o said, 'You're lucky. I got a closet with no room.' Now, will that do?

THAT SATISFIED t h e m. I wandered off, depressed, like Gregory Peck who had just been f o r c e d to shoot the s c h o o l marm's kid brother. A Baltimore guy grabbed me.

"Hey, quite a victory for the Birds, eh?" he shouted. "You know what you can say? You can say the Orioles won it in four straight but that it wasn't that close!" And he threw back his ears and brayed.

THAT DID IT. I grabbed him. "Listen, you Chesapeake clam," I hissed. "The only thing major league about this town is the rightfielder. I w o u l d n ' t go t h r o u g h Baltimore to get to Heaven. And, talk about cuisine! I had a steak last night they forgot to take the muzzle off! The only diners who don't get indigestion here have horns and beards. The guys checked into one hotel so small they called it the 'Midget Hilton.' Knock the Dodgers, will you?! Well, let me tell you what your town is—it's a peruke, that's what!" I had to run. The c o p s were coming. Loading their muzzles.

West Will Miss Lakers' Opener

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Guard Jerry West of the Los Angeles Lakers will miss his team's National Basketball Assn. opener Saturday at Baltimore because of a torn ligament.

West's right leg is in a soft cast, but he may be ready for the second game of the season Tuesday night in New York, a spokesman said yesterday. West injured the leg in a game Tuesday.

Center Tom Hoover was released yesterday, as the Lakers hoped to pick up an experienced guard in case West is out any length of time. The Lakers now are one below the maximum of players permitted by the NBA.

The races will start at noon off Knox Buoy. Featured in the races are boats which finished first and second in the recently concluded Small Yacht Racing Assn. season.

Dave Gorman and Gary Howard led the Hornets scoring, each with 14 points. Novato (5-0) is leading the league standings.

Stanford's Washington Will Start

Washington limped through practice yesterday and Chuck Williams, a 5-foot-9 junior, got in a lot of practice time at quarterback. Washington has had his condition since high school.

Bear Back Hurt

BERKELEY (AP)—Rick Bennett has moved into the starting fullback spot for the California Bears in place of Rich Aschenbrenner.

Aschenbrenner had replaced the injured Frank Lynch but suffered a neck injury himself last Saturday. A leg injury suffered by defensive tackle Larry Lathrop makes him doubtful for the Washington game in Seattle and senior Sam Hard was being groomed yesterday in practice to take his place.

San Jose Worry

SAN JOSE (AP) — San Jose State has to worry Saurday about San Diego State, fourth-ranked in college division football.

Spartan Coach Harry Anderson, in addition, has three other worries — three injured players who may not play. They are tackle Joe Ross, pinched shoulder nerve; defensive back Al Saunders, hamstring m u s c l e pull, and flanker S. T. Saffold, sprained ankle.

Huskies Fired Up

SEATTLE (AP) — Washington's Huskies held one of their hardest w o r k o u t s yesterday and when it was over the dust and fists were flying.

Rain forced the Huskies inside and on to the dirt floor of Edmundson Pavilion where the third-stringers succeeded in pushing the first two units around pretty much at will.

Coach Jim Owens, who kept his frustrated first-stringers from doing too much damage with their fists, said the workout was just what the top two teams needed.

Some Good Striped Bass Fishing Reports Indicate Run Is With Us

STEVENS

Jim Roads, Klamath River Guide Service, Happy Camp, reports: "Klamath very low, and at August level. Fishing results on the increase, particularly to those in the know. Weather warm, river also. Good results on gold Hot Shot, W-38; Little Cleo and Little Jewel ⅓-ounce also doing well. Silver Hilton No. 4 and 6 still tops. Fly fishing very good and is producing more than lure or bait."

Salmon and steelhead fishing is getting better each passing day in the Sacramento River from Colusa to Red Bluff.

LOCAL SALMON trolling remains somewhat in the doldrums. "A few salmon taken on Monday, but very foggy outside the Gate on Tuesday; only four boats left the harbor after salmon on Tuesday," was the report from Caruso's Sausalito Harbor.

The party boats locally have been using salmon hookup, two-pound sinkers, trying for stripers and hoping for a salmon or two. Getting lots of stripers, but only one report of a salmon being caught. That loner was taken by M. D. Madsen and weighed in at 24 pounds. Alice Quan, who reported Madsen's catch, was quite optimistic over the present and immediate future in her area (China Camp). Alice reported some fair to good results being had by bait fishermen working the locale we call Corregidor.

ONE BOAT had five bass before noon," said Alice, then added, "The boats drift fishing off the Sisters are having good luck, and nice catches have been made on sardines and bullheads by the bait fishermen."

Alice also mentioned the large number of shiners populating the waters off China Camp. "Some of the boys are catching the small fish and using them drift fishing off the Sisters and by the S.P. Buoy."

DON ZUNINO OF the Lincoln Bait Shop in San Rafael, reported fishing from Point Wilson to the Carquinez Bridge on both sides of the channel as good or excellent, with the main schools of bass being found in the deep water. "The Richmond Bridge area has been productive with best results being had while using two-pound sinkers."

Hal Boenner of the Lee Anderson Bait Shop reported the boat, Sea Horse, boating four salmon near the No. 1 buoy, and the R.S.P. taking seven limits of nice stripers to 16 pounds fishing deep in the Red Rock area with two-pound sinkers.

"The Duke No. 2 on Sunday took two limits on anchovies," said Hal.

I HAD A phone call from a reader saying, "Now that the deer season is closed, I'm going out for ducks and geese. What are the prospects?"

Well, if he figures the late deer season is over, I don't know what good dates for wild fowl will mean to him. But prospects for a good duck shoot are as good as they ever have been.

ODDLY, THE fishing for stripers in the lower San Pablo Bay is best when baits or lures are deep—where two or three pound sinkers are called for, while in the upper San Pablo Bay the boys are catching stripers close to the surface, using no sinkers. One can only assume the annual peak striper fishing is now with us. From now until mid December, limits will out-rate blanks, and why not get in on it while it lasts?

Tomales High Parents Petition For Replacement Of Old Building

By PAT PERRY

More than 150 parents have signed a petition to trustees of Tomales High School District asking that students be sent to other high schools on a tuition basis until the old Tomales High building is replaced.

They also ask that when the new school is built it be located farther south than Tomales.

The petition is to be presented to the trustees at their meeting at 8 p.m. today at the school.

Signed by "citizens and electors," the letter asks the trustees to "give serious consideration" to two proposals.

The first, recognizing that the trustees have abandoned plans to rehabilitate the present structure and have already hired an architect to design the new high school, notes that a site has not yet been selected.

"We ask that serious thought be given to locating the new high school further south and closer to the present concentration of population and closer to the area of greatest projected population growth," says the petition, quoting the West Marin Master Plan and the expected extension of Route 17.

The parents' letter notes that in recent weeks other schools in Marin County have been found to be earthquake hazards and students have been removed from the structures.

The parents ask the trustees to either provide safe temporary structures for the high school students or enter into agreement with other high school districts to take Tomales High students on a tuition basis.

It would save $323 per pupil to send them to the Tamalpais High School District, says the petition, with probably even greater savings in other districts in Sonoma County.

Tomales High School students live in northwest Marin and southwest Sonoma County. Current enrollment is over 200 pupils.

The letter was drafted the last weekend by a group headed by Shirley Morgan of Inverness.

Morgan said the group is one which has been opposed to unification of the Tomales High School District area. He said signators are residents of Point Reyes Station and Inverness, and no attempt was made to collect signatures from residents of Sonoma County whose children attend the school.

"They probably wouldn't like the idea of locating the school in the Point Reyes Station-Inverness area," he said.

In January 1964, Tomales High School District voters passed a $175,000 bond issue to repair the school's main building and shop-agricultural building. But the plan to remodel the old building was abandoned after the low bid on the project was nearly $70,000 more than the bond issue total.

On July 15 this year, trustees said they hope to have a new high school completed in about three years.

Nurses Win Test In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Superior Courtg ave approval Tuesday to pay increases granted some 900 city-employed nurses after a one-day work stoppage.

Judge Joseph Karesh ruled Mayor John F. Shelley had enough evidence to declare an emergency and suspend parts of the City Charter which prohibit mid-year increases.

He also said the mayor had enough evidence to decide the work stoppage Aug. 30 was not a strike, which would have been illegal.
